Immediate Plans Made To Increase Jefferson High School Facilities

All the incumbents, and the Jefferson High School district bond issue carried in last Friday's election by an overwhelming majority.

With a good 40 per cent of the voting residents turning out for the election, the $1,300,000 bond issue to build a new high school was passed by 2,111 votes. There were only 558 noes.

Now that the issue has been approved plans will begin immediately to enlarge the facilities of the district and to purchase a site for a third high school, in Sharp Park.

High School

Thomas J. Callan Sr. was returned to his position on the Jefferson High School board of trustees by one of the largest majorities in the history of the district. He received 1,574 votes.

Taking the second vacant seat on the board will be a Daly City building contractor, Lyle Ingersoll. The newcomer to the school board received 1,130 votes.

Runners up included Coastside candidate Guy G. Kitson with 965 votes and Myron F. Heggum with 557 votes.

Elementary School

In the Jefferson Elementary school board election, which was noted with special interest following the resignation of Superintendent James Snell last week, incumbent Andrew Van Der Werff received the majority vote of 616.

Claude Hanrahan, who came close to taking a place on the high school board last year, was runner-up again this year. He received 442 votes. Thomas Jenkins, Broadmoor attorney, came in third with 372 votes.

In the San Mateo Junior College election, the two incumbents were both reelected. Norman J. Corlett received 3219 votes while J. Howard Walzer came in with 2,470 votes. The two other candidates, Robert H. Hardgrove and Norbert J. Murray received 1,658 and 1,093 votes respectively.

LARGE PARKING LOT PROPOSED

Business Men Call For Off Street Parking

Possibility of an off street parking lot for the "top of the hill" and two hour parking meters will be considered by the Daly City council soon.

The recommendation for these two changes was made to City Administrator Dan Andersen by local business men at a special meeting of the Daly City Business Men's Association Tuesday.

Merchants have called on the city to employ present parking meter funds to build a large off street parking area. The purpose would be to attract more business to the Daly City shopping center. Several business men claim they are losing customers to larger markets with no parking meter areas.

"The only way to combat the present condition of poor parking facilities here is to build a parking lot," one business man said today. "Funds from the parking meters would more than pay for the expense."

No site has yet been decided upon for the proposed lot, although it probably would be located somewhere on Mission St. just below Hillside Boulevard.

Business men also called upon the city to up the time limit of the parking meters from one to two hours. Here again, they claim this move would increase business which they claim has fallen off because of the parking meters.

Andersen said he would present the proposal to the council. No time has been set yet as to when the council will consider the recommendations.

Love Proves Costly Affair

While two lovers had their eyes on the moon over Thorton Beach here early Wednesday morning, a teen-age thief was eyeing the beau's pocket book.

As Robert Hermansen and Elizabeth Stickler sought the man in the moon, the unidentified thief gently opened the front door of the car. Then, with no appreciation for love, the thief yelled: "OK, Buddy, what do you think I want?"

Hermansen had no difficulty answering that question. He handed his wallet, containing $30, to the thief, described to be about 19-years-old, blond, and wearing a Hawaiian type red colored shirt. The bandit made a hasty retreat in a blue car parked nearby.

School Board And Mr. Snell Reader Calls For Citizen's Advisory Group To Check Action Of School Board

100 Alder Avenue
Colma 25, California
May 19, 1951

Editor, The Record.

Dear Sir:

Here's a question: What can we do to get and keep a good Superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District?

Three years ago when the District hired Jim Snell I thought we had a mighty good man and his record since proves that he is an excellent Superintendent. But now, all of a sudden, a year before his contract has expired, he has resigned. Our Supervisor of Schools, Hugh Falconer, has also resigned.

Now... did Mr. Snell and Mr. Falconer take their jobs with the idea of giving them up at the first possible moment? Ask them if you like... I believe you'll find the answer is "No."

Very well then... why did they resign at this particular time? The answer has to be... there was some combination of circumstances which made their jobs untenable. The only criticism (unfavorable, that is) which I have been able to find out about comes either from the Jefferson Elementary School Board or from individuals who have in the past attended School Board meetings. So, one begins to gather, there must be something about those School Board meetings and/or one or more of the School Board members that got to be very, very rough on said Mr. Snell and Mr. Falconer.

Why The Odor?

Now just exactly what makes all the odor from the thing causing the smell (or smoke from the fire, if you think that's a more lady-like way to put it) I have no idea. But one thing is clear: We had a mighty fine Superintendent of Schools and a ditto General Supervisor of Schools. And now we don't have them any more. And the District cannot afford to lose men like Jim Snell and Hugh Falconer.

Let's take two examples of things that have happened since the first of this year. Do you recall that the School Board decided that Elementary School graduates should attend the ceremony attired in caps and gowns, ostensibly to save the cost of graduation outfits for the boys and girls? There was a regular huggie-muggie and hassle over the pros and cons of that affair. Now Mr. Editor, tell me this: What earthly business has any School Board to concern itself with a thing like that? Obviously, it is a very simple, straightforward matter of administrative procedure which should concern only the School Administration and the parents of the students involved. Nobody else.

Second Example

There's the other example: It regards the "alleged explanation about the resignation April 26 of Hugh Falconer, Assistant to Mr. Snell" as published in The Record of May 17, 1951, as having come from Mrs. Helen M. Cheatham. As published, the explanation ran, "Mr. Falconer was hired as an assistant to Mr. Snell while our school building program was being planned. When the program was completed Mr. Falconer was to take on new duties. I offered him the position of Principal at the new Colma School. He declined the position and gave his resignation."

Local Soldier Now Stationed At Ord

John Joseph Lee, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Lee of 264 Aceto street, who was inducted as a member of the Enlisted Reserve Corps, has been assigned to Co. L, 20th Infantry Regiment, Sixth Infantry Division at Fort Ord, California.

Prior to entering the armed forces, he attended St. Peter's Boys High. His higher education was received at San Mateo Junior College from which he was graduated.

Callan Thanks Everyone For Vote

Thomas J. Callan Sr. today thanked his many friends and neighbors who returned him to another term on the Jefferson High School District board of trustees last Friday.

Callan, who received an overwhelming vote of approval, said today:

"It is indeed heartening to know that my efforts on behalf of the district have met with the approval and understanding of the residents of this area.

"As it has for the past three years, it will be my concern to bring not better, but the best school system to our district. It will be my purpose to see that the money voted for school bonds is spent wisely and well for the benefit of the district as a whole.

"And above all, I reaffirm my campaign pledge that as long as I am school board trustee there will be no double sessions for your children; nor will there be any type of inadequate school facilities.

"Again, thank you for support at the polls last Friday, and for your support over the past three years. I am sure we can all pull together to make Jefferson High School District the best in the state of California."

The Record Praised For School Bond Drive

May 21, 1951

Editor:

As chairman of the Jefferson Union High School Bond Drive I would like to express my most sincere appreciation in behalf of the committee for the coverage we received in your paper, The Record.

It was indeed gratifying to see the people of the Jefferson Union High School District rally to the support of this most important issue, which carried by an overwhelming margin of 2,111 to 558.

For this we give thanks to all for their support with the assurance that split sessions will not for years to come hinder the progress of a well founded educational system.

Sincerely,
PETER MARKOVICH

Help A Vet Mayor Proclaims Poppy Day May 26

All citizens of Daly City were urged to wear a memorial poppy on Saturday, May 26, in a proclamation issued today by Mayor Paul Green, setting the day aside as Poppy Day.

Pointing out that the wearing of the poppy is an individual tribute to the memory of America's war dead, the proclamation stated:

"Whereas young men of the City of Daly City are again serving in defense of our country and are taking their places among our honored citizens alongside those who have served in other wars, and

"WHEREAS the roll of those who have given their lives in the nation's defense is increasing as war takes its toll of our finest young men, and

"Whereas the memory of those citizens of Daly City who make the supreme sacrifice for America should live forever in the hearts of all citizens of our City, and

"Whereas annual wearing of the memorial poppy is an individual tribute to the war dead, showing that we remember and are grateful for their sacrifices in our behalf, now

"Therefore, I, Paul Green, Mayor of the City of Daly City, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 26, to be Poppy Day in the City of Daly City, and I urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing the memorial poppy."

Poppies, made by disabled veterans, will be distributed throughout the city by members of the American Legion Auxiliary and Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary on Poppy Day. Contributions for the aid of disabled veterans and needy children of veterans will be received in exchange for the red paper flowers.

STREET QUESTION IS UP AGAIN IN BROADMOOR AND WESTLAKE AREAS

Survey Called For A Proposed Connecting Route

More red tape entered the two year red, white and blue controversy over a connecting street between Westlake and Broadmoor this week.

The red tape is in form of still another survey to determine the best connecting route between the districts. This month's survey will be made by County Engineer M. A. Grant. Purpose of the study will be to determine the relative cost of the various proposed routes.

Grant was given the green light for the survey by the county planning commission at their regular meeting last Friday. Charles Becker, attorney representing Westlake, was the prime mover behind the commission and survey. He pointed out that the commission should consider the best interests of the 6,000 Westlake and Broadmoor residents rather than the cost of a street.

Cost Factor

The engineer is to determine the cost of the "red" and "blue" routes. These streets would run from 87th, near White Street, north to the Westlake Shopping Center, thence west and north to the extension of Alemany Boulevard.

What influence Grant's report will have on the planning commission is another thing. The resignation. He seems to have believed that the position of Principal was not suitable." (End of quote of Mrs. Cheatham's alleged explanation as printed in your paper.)

If you will examine it, Mr. Editor, you will find that there is nothing in the contract Mr. Falconer signed with the Jefferson Elementary School Board other than the one he signed for, that of General Supervisor of Schools.

Furthermore, as stated in actual minutes of School Board meetings (see the minutes for January 1950 and again, if I am not mistaken, in January 1951) the privilege of hiring certificated or non-certificated employees rests only with the Superintendent of Schools. The School Board's part of the job lies in approving or disapproving the Superintendent's choice. No member of the School Board has the power to "offer" a job to any teacher or administrative officer.

Duty Defined
It is the province, duty and privilege of the School Board to hire the best Superintendent of Schools they can possibly find. And then it is their duty, privilege, and one would think their pleasure, for goodness' sake, to work with him harmoniously and cooperatively for the good of our children and our schools.

My whole point is that school administrators as good as Jim Snell and Hugh Falconer are not expendable. Whatever happened that caused their resignations should not have been allowed to happen. The time has come when some method has to be worked out for peace and harmony and cheerful cooperation between all concerned with our schools. Our kids need good schooling too badly to take any time out for dog-fights.

Parents At Fault

Will you, Mr. Editor, please publish full details about future School Board meetings . . . when, where and how they are held . . . and urge all parents to attend more of them? Perhaps some sort of Advisory Council of a great many parents could be formed, so that a group of parents could attend every single School Board meeting and keep the community informed about what's going on. We as parents are partly at fault for Mr. Snell's resignation, you know. Very evidently we weren't there when he needed us. Let's be there to see that our next Superintendent (whoever he may be) gets a square deal, next time.

Two years ago I wrote a letter to The Record supporting the candidacy of Mrs. Helen Cheatham as a Jefferson Elementary School Board Member. Regrettably, I must withdraw my support at this time. In my opinion, Mrs. Cheatham has not demonstrated the spirit of dignity, fair-mindedness and impartiality which as a parent I should like to see in every

Street Question Is Up Again

Redwood City group has turned thumbs down on anything but the "blue" route . . . one running adjacent to the new Garden Village School. The Jefferson Elementary School board, on the other hand, has time and time again said this street will never go in as it is a danger to school children. The school board favors the red route.

Still Silent
Yet to be heard from is the Ocean Shore Railroad, whose land (or alleged land) the route would have to cross. At the present time the Railroad is claiming damages from Henry Doelger for "invading" the very strip a connecting street between Broadmoor and Westlake would cross.

All of which leads many local politicians to believe that there won't be much chance of a street between the two areas for another one to three years.

drew Van Der Werff, was also silent.

Both men, however, noted that it was a regrettable thing that the school system had to be the center of such a controversy.

It also appears today that this same controversy is going to make it almost impossible to hire a new school superintendent. One candidate, approached last week, flatly refused the job. He noted that as long as the school board was "split" the superintendent never knew where he stood.

COUNTY DRAFT BOARD

Orders to hold June pre-induction physicals for 37 men were received by the San Mateo County Selective Service headquarters this week.

There is an adequate backlog of physically qualified young men already examined to fill an anticipated June draft call of 10 to 15 men, according to Mrs. Virginia Anderson, county selective service coordinator.

The additional physicals on June 14 are for the purpose of filling July manpower needs. No official June draft call has been received yet, Mrs. Anderson said.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM A CORNER

By BILL KATZ

We heard a pretty good story the other day.

In Lafayette, Indiana, a chap took a long look at the crops, the atomic bomb and the price of snuff. It was too much. He headed for the local hardware store to price a length of rope. He had ideas about putting the rope around his neck.

On his way to the store he met the editor of the local weekly, "Joe," the prospective suicide said, "I'm going to end it all, and today."

The jaundiced eyed editor viewed his friend with the gleam of a man hot on the trail of a "scoop." Following a short talk, the editor had convinced his friend he should put the whole thing off two days. In that way the suicide would break on Thursday, in time for the weekly paper's front page.

Heaven Bound

Being an obliging type, the future angel agreed to keep his feet on the earth for another two days. At this point fate stepped in, and a rich uncle died. Wednesday, the chap found he was $1,200 richer. This was enough to assure him that life was worth living and the editor could go to h—.

Needless to say the paper made a good story out of this whole thing; but the editor bemoaned the suicide's failure to use a rope. How much better a story it would have been, if he had hung himself on Tuesday and inherited the money on Wednesday.

This may appear gruesome to anyone who hasn't heard a radio thriller lately; but it just goes to illustrate that time plays a vital role in newspaper work. Consequently, when The Record prints a story you may have heard last Friday, remember we are only a weekly trying to get ahead and have still to find the key to beating the clock.

Another good laugh was furnished this week by a local official who painted our town as morally the Garden of Eden. A cursory glance at this newspaper will convince any reader that we are a long way from this enviable state.

Somewhat Better

We suppose Daly City is no worse, although perhaps a little better, than most towns when it comes to the various vices. It certainly is no fault of the city, but rather of the boys and girls who tend to be just too human. Our city officials do their best to keep this a "clean" town; and on the whole we think they have succeeded pretty well. But even they can't entirely put a stop to some of the items recently under investigation by the Kefauver committee.

No, we admire anyone who asserts we are living in paradise; but at the same time we can't

YOUR GIRL SCOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CHAIRMAN REPORTS

The Mother's Tea given by

Brownie Troops 7 and 11 was a charming affair, well attended by the mothers. Tiny Peoria Scout House was bulging. The entertainment opened with two folk dances by Troop 11. The girls were dressed in purple crepe paper skirts, trimmed with lacy white doilies; white crepe paper tea aprons and black crepe paper sashes. Little bands of the same material were worn around the heads. The girls did their dances well and with evident enjoyment. The mothers expressed their approval by spontaneous and hearty applause. Leader, Mrs. Caine, did a good job as instructor.

Mrs. Carr's Troop 7, costumed the same as Troop 11, except that their skirts were pink, with sashes of blue and brown, put on a little skit depicting a day in the life of a housewife, entitled, "Come Play House With Me." A narrator read the lines which were acted out by the rest of the troop. The lady was busy! She shopped, she baked, she washed dishes, cleaned house and wrote a letter. There was a caller at the lady's house and tea was served. The mail man arrived with some mail which broke up her day and gave her a chance to rest a little.

The girls in troop 7 were applauded for turning in a neat performance.

Mother's Day Gifts

After the entertainment, Mrs. Carr's Troop 7, presented their mothers with lapel ornaments they had made, and worn during the skit. Mrs. Caine's troop 11, presented their mothers with knitting boxes, made from oatmeal cartons. These were the troops Mother's Day gifts.

Refreshments of cup cakes, cookies, coffee and Cool-Aid were served by the Brownies and co-leaders, Mrs. Sciaroni and Mrs. Vets.

The recent girl scout neighborhood meeting at Peoria on Tuesday, May 15th, was one of the best we have had. An unheard of turnout of 22 interested mothers were on hand. Many of the mothers attended for the first time, and it was indeed gratifying to see the new faces. The meeting was a busy one and some of the business had to be put over until the next meeting, to allow time to organize two new Brownie troops for this neighborhood. The Leaders in the two new troops are enthusiastic and anxious to get started which should make for fine troops. Must say it seems like a dream the way two of these new Leaders went out and lined up a third co-leader and four committee members to form their troop so that they could get organized and start holding meetings right away. Not only that, but they even have the leaders basement to meet in, which is wonderful since all the days, except Saturday, are taken at the Scout House. Seems only fitting to give their names. Mrs. Gloria Parsons and Mrs. Evelyn Gross are the two women referred to. May Peoria have many more like them.

Last Meeting

The latest, and I fear the last, Leaders' meeting was held at Peoria Scout house on Thursday at 8 p.m. The neighborhoods have voted, all except Peoria, to discontinue the meetings. Previously the meetings had been held once a month. This was to enable the Leaders to get together, get to know each other, and exchange ideas and crafts. It is proposed now to meet twice a year with special meetings in between if it seems warranted. The meetings would be larger and more elaborate in conception, but, perhaps, more on the workshop order.

Peoria neighborhood is proud that this last meeting was most successful. A fine gathering of 26 Leaders were present to enjoy the fine demonstration of lashing by Mary Larson, a demonstration of glass etching by Mildred Whinnin, who also explained the technique of making a handkerchief umbrella. Since these two crafts were learned as a den mother, Mrs. Goldilady, Leader's president, suggested it might be a fine thing to arrange a joint meeting of both Leaders and Den Mothers for the coming year. The exchange of ideas and crafts might be very helpful to both.

After the business and demonstration help but wonder where they buy their rose colored glasses.

Some of our friends, "friend" covering the category of those who owe us money, and a shaggy black dog who has been mooching off our table, have wondered what happened to this column. General MacArthur summed it all up nicely with the word "fading." We've simply faded away over the past weeks, but like all good men who love the sound of their own voice, we are back to inflict this column upon our readers. As one wag put it, "Old newspapermen never die, they simply drift away."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Having read the May 3 issue of The Record and noticing the letter that Tom Pagni wrote, I can say that he speaks for me as well.

Upon going to the mail room and finding a Record in my box, I hurriedly opened it to see if anyone I know has done any "drastic" deed or who married whom. Surprising to believe how rapidly the city is expanding.

I've been receiving this paper since last July when I was stationed at Perrin A.F.B.—uh hum, that's in Texas, you know—and I want to extend my wholehearted thanks to your staff and you for extending the paper's service to us servicemen. I'm sure that everyone who receives it, wherever he may be, cherishes the thought that's behind it.

Best Regards,

P. S. I guess you'd like to know what I'm doing. It's radar work and I'm kind of an instructor for officers for controllers. The words are self explanatory. By that I mean that they are in contact with the planes by radio and check their movements by radar. Some surprising things go on here, but I'm not at liberty to tell you. Sorry, but security reasons prevail.

Time for chow. Of course I've eaten worse, but not so often.

Daly City Sportswomen Public Invited To Attend Annual Picnic At La Honda Park June 3

by Mrs. E. K. Whinnin

Daly City Sportswomen are looking forward to the annual Rod and Gun picnic at La Honda Park, scheduled for June 3.

The Sportswomen will sell hot dogs and coffee for the men's club, as usual.

This is always a very pleasant and successful affair, so ask your friends to join you and come down, all you sportswomen and sportsmen, who enjoy a wonderful outing among friends, with lots of games, contests, baseball game, and good fellowship thrown in. Remember, La Honda Park, June 3. Come early and stay late.

Join Meet

The joint meeting of the San Francisco Sportswomen and Daly City Sportswomen was held on Monday night, May 14, at the Swedish-American Hall, on Market Street, San Francisco. The San Francisco Sportswomen were the perfect hostesses as always, providing a large assortment of very good sandwiches, beer, pickles and coffee.

Conduct of the meeting was shared with the president of the Daly City Sportswomen, who reported on the May Festival Float. An invitation was extended to the Daly City Sportswomen to serve refreshments at the Seventh District Dance June 16. The surf Club also issued the joint sports-club of the women an invitation to attend their picnic on June 17th at La Honda Park.

A very good report was given on Seventh District meeting by Jo Flansburg. It seems too many fish are being killed by careless removal from the hook when they are too small to keep. A great many have been found washed upon the shores dead. When the hook is swallowed deep down into the throat this is probably unavoidable, but in most cases it hooked shallow and care in taking it off when the fish is to be thrown back would save the fish's life. Carelessness of this sort is inexcusable by those who call themselves sportsmen or women.

More Floats

There is a definite need of more floats at Lake Merced for the kids to fish from, especially since the "no bank" fishing edict went into effect. District Seven also went on record as against live bait at Merced. Salmon eggs are O.K.

A new and shorter initiation ceremony was voted in by the membership at the last meeting. Be easier for the new members to get in now. Two new members were initiated at the last meeting, Vivian Crisp and Naomi Stone. The Sportswomen are happy to welcome these two new members to their ranks.

veteran welfare program of the Gold Chevron VFW, America's oldest organization of overseas fighting men.

"The large majority of the proceeds," announced President Eagleton, "will remain in San Mateo County to be used locally for needy veterans and their dependents."

Other phases of veteran welfare maintained, partly, by proceeds from the annual Buddy Poppy sale are national in scope. They include the nationwide program of veteran rehabilitation and maintenance of the VFW National Home for war orphans and widows, at Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

VFW Buddy Poppies are made throughout the year by the hospitalized war veterans. The work itself has been hailed for its therapeutic value and for its benefit in assisting the process of rehabilitation amount wounded patients. The VFW acts as sales agent for these veterans and pay them for their work from the proceeds of the sale. The Gold Chevron organization does not profit from the sale but uses the major portion of the funds for bringing relief to war veterans.

Your P. G. and E. rates—lower today than in 1940!

Despite an 87% increase in the cost of living since 1940, your P. G. and E. rates are lower today than 10 years ago. In fact, they are among the very lowest in the nation. Why do your gas and electricity cost less? Because: 1. The more you use the less you pay for additional gas and electricity. And today you use nearly twice as much as you did ten years ago. 2. Alert employees and careful management constantly improve our efficiency. The savings that result are passed along to you. Remember: The rate you pay is lower, though your utility bill may be more than in 1940 because you use more gas and electricity.

P. G. and E. PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

Mr. Fred J. Marchi, Los Gatos butcher, one of P. G. and E.'s 170,000 stockholders. Through their investment we have been able to meet the increased demand for gas and power. We have spent over $700,000,000 since 1945 on new facilities.

P. G. and E. foreman Tom Sterner says: "One reason your rates are lower is because the Company encourages all hands to improve service, cut waste, improve efficiency. I received a $700 award last year for an idea that cut production costs."

Mrs. Frank M. Cooley, Greenbrae housewife says: "With two youngsters to feed, and a 7-room house to take care of, you bet I depend on my appliances! Yet our P. G. and E. bill is about the smallest item in my monthly household expenses."

THE ANSWER TO SNELL'S RESIGNATION

Last week the Jefferson Elementary School District lost its superintendent, James Snell. He was the "victim" of a number of factors; but principally of that old bugaboo...public apathy.

As a reader points out in this week's Record, too many residents take little or no interest in public affairs in general and in school business in particular. True, the majority of persons in this district were shocked to learn Snell had resigned. True, the same majority is anxious to hire a good man to replace Snell. But how many gave the job as superintendent of schools any thought at all until they found the superintendent had left the district.

Some three years ago we had a similar case here when Richard Crane resigned. The same story is being repeated a second time. The only thing that is different is the "stage" setting and actors. The audience remains the same.

You are the audience, and it is about time you took an active part in the affairs of your school. Another incident like the Snell resignation and this district won't be able to hire a superintendent.

We are not here to tell you what to do to keep a good man in charge of your children's education. However, we would recommend that each and every one of you keep a close eye on the activities of the school district and its officials...not only over the next few weeks, but for the years ahead.

We are of the opinion Snell was forced to resign because you, as a taxpayer and parent, didn't take enough interest in your school district. Before pointing the finger at anyone else, take a good look at yourself.

And remember this...the same public apathy that has caused an uproar in the school district can result in the same chain of events in city affairs. Keep your eyes open, or you're apt to have both of them blacked.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

An outstanding opportunity for the state senate to prove that it is legislating in the interests of the public will be given that body within the next day or so.

This opportunity is afforded in AB-3407, by Assemblyman Gordon Hahn, of Los Angeles, a bill which has cleared the assembly, and the senate committee on public utilities.

Briefly, the measure provides that freight shipments may be consolidated for the public to take advantage of lower rates for bigger shipments.

It is a common practice in interstate commerce, and in fact, is provided for by the Interstate Commerce Act. But under the present provisions of the California Public Utilities Act, anyone who takes the collection and shipment of property for others is subject to classification as a "freight forwarder." The state act affects persons who are not actually in the business of transporting merchandise, and this is one of the matters the Hahn bill seeks to correct.

Public Benefit

How the Hahn proposal would benefit the public is in the lowering of shipping rates, in the event shippers take advantage of the consolidation proposals. For instance, if an individual shipped ten pounds, the rate would be high. But if ten individuals shipped ten pounds apiece, then a hundred pound rate would apply, which is lower because of volume. This would apply up to the lowest rates for the greatest shipments.

California's big trucking interests, however, are not interested in seeing the measure go into effect. The reason is, as it follows mathematically, some of the profit would be taken out of the trucker's pockets, and reduced to the benefit of the public in the form of savings on shipping costs. For the trucker would rather charge ten persons a high rate than one person a lower rate for ten times as much cargo.

When the bill came before the senate public utilities committee, G. G. Anthony, of Los Angeles, a representative of the Southern California Truckers Association, rose in opposition.

All Wrong

Anthony charged the bill would "tend to favor large volume shippers against small volume groups," a contention proponents of the bill disposed of immediately by showing that the contrary is true.

He also charged the bill would favor shippers in large cities against those in smaller communities, would impair common carrier service, result in increased delivery costs and "disrupt rate structures built up over the past 15 years."

Senator Joe Dorsey, of Bakersfield, however, struck at the heart of the objections to the measure, when he asked whether or not the bill would effect a saving to the shipping public, and Anthony admitted that it would.

Favors Shippers

Proponents of the bill pointed out the measure would tend to favor shippers in smaller communities more than in large cities, as the smaller cities buy in smaller lots. As to impairing common carrier service, the same amount of tonnage will move, although at a lower rate, it was pointed out.

Opposition of the trucking interests is typical of opposition to many measures which would benefit the public interest at this session of the legislature, such as the shelving of bills which would result in lower costs on various items in favor of the so-called "special interests."

While California residents, in all probability, face little chance of paying an additional three cents a package for cigarettes, the measure proposing the assessment for schools is still before the legislature, and a long way from being dead.

Thursday night (May 24) the Assembly committee on revenue and taxation is scheduled to hold a hearing on the advisability of putting the tax on probably the most popular commodity in point of sales in the state.

The proposed cigarette tax is wound up with Assemblyman Francis Dunn's bill providing for an increased state school apportionment, and has been tacked on to that measure as a rider to pay the extra tariff.

Owning and driving an automobile is a major responsibility, says the California State Automobile Association. Behind the wheel of your car, you are concerned not only with your own safety, but with that of others. Take this responsibility seriously, and always drive carefully.

Charmless Girls

SOME GIRLS are born with charm. They attract everyone within reach without much effort. Other girls—well, Olive Russell is one of the others. Olive is 23; she lives in Duluth.

"I'm just not attractive, and I know it," says her letter. "I've known it for about seven years. I'm sick and tired of struggling to make people—and especially men—like me, and yet I can't drop out of the world. I can't die, and sometimes it seems as if I simply couldn't live and be so unpopular, so left out of things.

"There's no use cataloging what I have or what I haven't in the way of looks; I've got all my features in their usual places; I've got hair, I don't wear glasses, ear-drums, a wig or false teeth. My aunt, by the way, who is 45 and has all these disadvantages has just made a very prosperous second marriage.

"I dress nicely, I smile, I listen interestedly to any man who happens to be near me. And without the slightest warning he gets up and walks away to another woman. No man asks me to go to dinner or the theatre, and if I ask a man to dine with my father and mother and me he may come, but he doesn't stay late, and the conversation is general for only about an hour after dinner. If I tell a joke it falls flat. If I buy an expensive coat another girl in the office buys one for $20.85 and it looks just as well. If I propose a plan for a week end, everyone in the office has something else to do.

Left Out

"I tell you," continues Olive's letter, "it breaks you down to be always trying to push your way into good times and normal love affairs and to be always left on the outside. My group—my old college group and present office group—is breaking up into marriages now; homes and babies have become the interest of the day, and where am I? I know just how much young husbands like to have the dear old girl friend drop in and expect to be asked to dinner.

"...you sit unnoticed..."

"My mother thinks I'm lovely; she thinks I'm just too fine and intelligent for these ordinary men. She wants me to go to parties and 'just dance around, dear, with everyone who asks you, and don't think too much about it.' Think too much about it! What else can you do when you sit unnoticed, dance after dance, and the music plays and the lights shine and everyone else is having a glorious time? I don't go to parties any more; my youth is over at 23, and nobody can fool me about it.

"What I'm asking you," Olive concludes, "is whether it would be any better if I went away? It would break my parents' hearts, and mine, too, but I just can't bear to have the thirties and forties begin to go by, and never feel that I've lived at all. Shall I leave home for six months or so, and see if it's different when I come back?"

One Girl's Problem

That's one girl's pathetic problem, and it isn't an unusual one. In every group of girls, in every school, there are a few who really do not attract young friendships and glide easily into young good times, for no discernable reason. Homelier girls, more stupid girls make their way; girls with spectacles, freckles, too much weight or too much height saunter about the campus with attentive suitors in tow, but girls in Olive's position appear to be under a malignant spell, and their cleverest efforts don't attract to them the beaux and the good times for which they hunger.

Often they try too hard, too obviously. Often that assumed meritment, those plans, that careful listening are perfectly recognizable. And nothing—nothing so isolates a girl as the suspicion that she is angling, straining, campaigning determinedly to be popular.

Olive, forget men. Of course you can't. But act exactly as if there were no men about. Don't flaunt your activities and assert that you really are so busy with Red Cross and Spanish lessons.

Don't say anything at all. Drop out of the picture as you would if you had a delightful husband in the service overseas, and were improving yourself to be even more charming when he comes back.

Or if you don't like that idea, take it the other way. Say to yourself, "I am 23. At 32 I am going to make a really good marriage. I want my husband to have a cultured, gentle, happy busy woman for a wife; a real woman, fragrant and loving and ready for the supreme experiences of wifehood."

Prayer Gives Mental Strength

ON MY DESK is a touching and inspiring letter from Molly Rael, Los Angeles, Calif. When Molly was a little girl of 11, her mother was suddenly taken ill. Although Molly was one of nine children, her mother had carried the homemaking burden almost single-handed, and Molly had never realized the responsibilities of a home until now.

But at that early age, she had to do most of the cooking and housekeeping. Her sisters and brothers, all older than she, were either in college or working at jobs. This left only little Molly to take care of her mother, in addition to the other work.

Carnegie

After two weeks, her mother was ordered to the hospital. Molly watched the internes place her mother on a stretcher and take her out of the house. She felt as if her heart within her had turned to stone; she never expected to see her beloved mother come home again. She couldn't talk; she couldn't cry.

That evening when her brothers and sisters came home, they found their home a dismal place, such as it never before had been. There was little conversation to penetrate the gloom. Suddenly one of her brothers suggested that all of them stay up during the night and pray for their mother's recovery. All agreed. They decided to keep busy at something so they wouldn't fall asleep, but never to stop praying even for one minute. All of them knew there was little hope for their mother; knew the doctors did not expect her to live. That was a night never to be forgotten by the young members of that family.

The next morning nine young people were heartened as if by a miracle. The doctor called them to say that their mother had opened her eyes, a sign of returning strength which he had not expected. Three weeks later she was at home again, on the road to recovery.

Molly says she knows more people have recovered from severe illnesses with no prayer said over them, but nothing will ever make her believe that their prayers didn't help. Even if they had not, their faith and their keeping themselves busy, freed them from worry and gave them the necessary spiritual and mental strength to face their trial.

MARTHA KNEW something had happened when Timothy came home from St. Louis. She knew also he'd tell her in his own good time. There were no secrets between them after 12 happy years of marriage.

She prepared his supper, but Timothy only had time to say grace before an urgent call came from Luther Barnes, asking him to come at once.

Martha hurriedly took off her apron and climbed in the shabby car with him. She was thinking that while Timothy was a minister in charge of this small community in the Ozark hills, he was often called on to act as a doctor. Fortunately, he had gone through medical school.

The Barnes family lived way out in the hills. They found Sarah Barnes in terrible pain. "We must get her to the hospital at once," Tim told Luther. "I'm afraid it's her appendix."

Luther turned pale. He was also a doctor. He said he wouldn't let his wife be operated on. She wasn't going to leave home.

Sarah said weakly, "I want to go, parson."

Timothy told Martha to take pillows and a blanket and make a bed in the back of the car. When Timothy was ready to pick Sarah up and take her to the car, Luther barred the door. "She's not going," he panted.

Timothy looked at Luther sorrowfully. Before Luther realized Timothy's intention, Timothy had dealt him a blow that sent him toppling to the floor. Then he lifted Sarah tenderly and carried her out to the car.

The next day she was still dangerously ill. The appendix had ruptured. The operation was over, but she was still in grave danger.

Timothy went out to see Luther, to apologize, to try to make the

The feeling among some legislators is that the revenue and taxation committee hearing should go into a determination of how much Dunn's school bill will cost, and also into the projected surplus the state is expected to have at the close of the budget fiscal year.

Swollen Revenue

The surplus estimates have been varied, starting with two million dollars. However, late information indicates it may reach from between fifty to sixty million, depending on the way sales in California hold up. Revenues are swollen at the present time, but whether they will keep on that way is another question.

There is also the thought that some members of the committee hold—once the appropriation for the schools has been increased there would be no such thing as reducing it, even if revenues from the state sales tax, or any other tax, warranted such a reduction. Once the appropriation is in effect, it is there to stay, and nothing short of complete bankruptcy could dislodge such an appropriation.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

THE ONLY ROLE Janet Waldo likes better than the teenage heroine she portrays as the star of CBS' "Meet Corliss Archer" is that which she fulfills off-mike as what she calls "an old married woman." Janet married writer Robert E. Lee on March 2, 1948. Ever since then, she's devoted most of her time learning to cook, mothering the third member of the Lee family—a frisky puppy name of "Lucky Ophelia"—and injecting just a glimmer of "maturity" into her "Corliss" portrayal. Her script parents, Irene Tedrow and Fred Shields, however, smile over Janet's efforts in this direction. "No matter how many years she's been married," they insist with an affectionate look in Janet's direction, "she'll always sound exactly like Corliss."

Janet's first real radio job was, surprisingly, a role as a sophisticated. It was on CBS' "Lux Radio Theatre" and when she auditioned for the part she was so nervous she dropped her script all over the floor. Later she received her biggest break in a co-starring role opposite Bing Crosby on "Silver Theatre." Crosby's casual air put her at ease and this time she had no trouble keeping her script in hand.

Janet and husband Bob live in Sherman Oaks, Calif., where, away from the microphone, Janet suitably fulfills the role of a busy San Fernando Valley housewife—market shopping and conducting elaborate culinary experiments to surprise her indulgent spouse. The sister of an accomplished concert violinist, Elizabeth Waldo, Janet also has skilled hands. She sews, knits, designs her own clothes and plays the classics on the piano. Borrowing Corliss' vernacular, however, she insists, "I murder them." Together for relaxation, the Lees like to ski, swim, play tennis and ride horseback.

Janet was born in Grandview, Wash., and began her acting career there, in grammar school plays and pageants. While still in high school, she made her official radio debut, reading a two-line commercial over Seattle's Station KOMO. She headed for Hollywood in 1942, after studying at length with a dramatic coach.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From E. E. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: Do you remember when mantels were artistically draped with fancy diaphanous strips of material called "lambrequins?"

From Bessie Williams, Decatur, Ill.: I remember my mother cleaning house on Saturday by moving all the furniture out on the porch while she gave the front room a good sweeping by putting wet papers on the floor.

From Mrs. Ida Combs, Gilboa, Ohio: I remember when we didn't have electric lights. My dad would go to the woods and get pine and he would make us children hold the pine lights for him to do things. And the tar would run down on our hands and burn us. I was married in 1900 and never saw an orange until after my first child was born.

From Mrs. W. E. Miesner, Overland Park, Kans.: I remember when we went to school in a one-room white frame schoolhouse with outdoor rest rooms and wood and coal shed, with a big old heating stove at the back of the room, and when there was any night entertainments at the schoolhouse, there were coal oil lamps hanging from the walls for lighting the room, and for the curtains on the "stage" there was a wire stretched across the front end of the room, with sheets pinned to the wire with big safety pins so that they would slide back and forth on the wire to open or close the curtains.

From Emma Fink, Munster, Ind.: I remember when we would save the combings of our hair and make pictures of flowers framed and watch chains, also real hair for dolls. Wonder why we don't save and sell combings now?

(Mail your memories to The Old Timers, Box 340, Frankfort, Ky.) Cigarettes, which helps make the proposed three cent tax in this state even more unpalatable.

But if convinced the state's surplus will run as high as fifty million, the committee may approve the tax, which would mean a fight on the floor of the house.

The state senate, however, will have no stomach for the tax. It has not recommended any new taxes, and leaders in the upper house are convinced that it won't, not, at least, at this session of the legislature.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By Mrs. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents Magazine

AN INTERESTING new entry in the informative pamphlet series issued by the Public Affairs Committee is "So You Want to Adopt a Baby," which treats in forthright, warmhearted manner the problems which beset adoptive parents.

Few human relationships are more hedged about with emotional tensions than that of foster parents toward the child of unknown origin whom they have made part of their hearts and household. Ruth Carson, author of the pamphlet, says frankly that some couples are constitutionally unfitted to be adoptive parents; perhaps because deep-seated resentment at failure to produce a flesh-of-my-flesh baby keeps them from giving a stranger's child the love and security needed for its successful development; perhaps they are too old, too prim and set in their ways, or, conversely, to flighty and self-centered.

Authorized placement agencies consider carefully all these factors and the pamphlet is most insistent about the grave importance of "legal adoption." Black or gray market channels supply the demand for babies faster than accredited agencies can, but they have brought heartache and conflict into many normally well-adjusted families. There are cases where diseased or abnormal children have been foisted on unsuspecting parents ill equipped to handle or care for them. In other instances a natural mother—with her legal rights—has demanded the return of a child she had surrendered for adoption and caused bitter pain and frustration to the foster parents who had learned to love it devotedly and centered high hopes on its future.

There is good reason, Miss Carson assures us, for the leisurely workings of a qualified adoption bureau. First of all, there are ten sets of would-be parents to every small baby available through legitimate channels. So it is manifestly impossible for a couple just to walk off with the cuddly infant they want just as soon as they have decided they want it. (The process can be speeded up for couples willing to take an older child—but the quite natural impulse is to prefer an infant who will grow up in the adoptive family with neither memories nor influence of any previous environment.)

Then, too, the adoption agency must take time to clear legal, health and, insofar as practical, psychological factors about children awaiting placement. Moreover, the job is in a sense one of matchmaking! So even if there is a baby available when an eager applicant files request, the agency must still take its own good time to discover whether it's the right child for the particular parents who have asked for it.

Some states have laws with regard to religion and race. Health and age of foster parents also enter into consideration. The home into which the child is going must be investigated. Says Miss Carson, "The agency will want to know your income, of course. But the size of it is not nearly so important as its steadiness, and the way you manage it."

A Pacific equatorial expedition by the California Academy of Sciences and the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia was announced today by Dr. Robert C. Miller, Director of the San Francisco institution, and George Vanderbilt, who will head the project.

A five-months cruise to equatorial islands such as the Marquesas and Society Islands, the Tuamotots, and others, will be made on the auxiliary schooner, the Pioneer, a 175-foot craft which will sail from Newport, California on June 1.

The expedition will collect both bird and fish specimens and undertake several research projects. Among these will be a study of the vertical distribution of reef fishes. Special equipment for the expedition will consist of a series of lights that have been installed on the ship for night collecting. Dredging equipment includes a mile of three-eighths inch cable and deep water plankton nets. Dr. Earl S. Herald, curator of aquatic biology of the Steinhart Aquarium of the California Academy of Sciences will represent the local institution and serve as assistant curator of ichthyology. Mr. Vanderbilt is director of the expedition and curator of collections. The party will consist of nine persons including a physician, photographer, and several guests.

"HIS MAJESTY'S CASTLE"—the nursery. Why not fix it up in a manner worthy of the "little king?" And it needn't be costly—for appearances are deceiving and often a little imagination can be substituted for dollars in achieving a "picture book" effect. Start with a bit of paint—baby blue, pink or primrose yellow. Use a slightly deeper shade of the same color for trim. Make draperies and a crib spread of pastel compass percale sheets. Add cute cut-out appliques of animals and nursery figures for the final touch. The result? A charming nursery as pretty as the one in the picture, decorated very inexpensively. It takes only two Cannon sheets, double bed size, to give you enough material for the crib spread and even full length draperies, with plenty left over to slipcover a small chair or make crib linings or "bumpers." So easy to launder, too—for baby's haven must always be kept spotlessly clean.

HANDY CORNER IN THE NURSERY

Step-saver for mother is a diaper-changing corner in the nursery. New mothers who are just qualifying for the degree MDC (master diaper changer) will find that a hanging wall cabinet is a convenient place for the baby lotion, baby powder and sterile cotton balls that are needed for each diaper switch. The cabinet keeps them within mother's reach yet out of baby's eager grasp. With everything thus handily assembled, it's a simple routine to deck the youngster in fresh diapers in double-quick time. Use one of those handy, sterile cotton balls moistened with baby lotion to cleanse the diaper area. Then smooth baby lotion in each tiny crease in baby's skin. This soothing lotion—a fragrant white emulsion of bland oil and water with lanolin and an antiseptic added—helps prevent chafing, prickles. It wards off impetigo, and helps keep baby's velvety skin "in the pink."

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx Juniper 4-6449

Two robberies have been reported in Bayshore in the past week.

One of them was the Union Oil Service Station, at the corner of Geneva and Rio Verde Sts. Frank Toscanini, the owner, reported that a window was broken, and his cash register stolen. The robbery took place about midnight last Friday. One of the residents here saw two men loitering around the station, but he did not watch them. The cash register was found in McLaren Park by youngsters. It was broken up, and some $15.00 was the estimated cash that had been in it.

The other robbery took place about dusk last Sunday. Thieves broke out the glass of the back door of the Leta May Shoppe, two doors from Scott's Market, and made off with $7.00 or $8.00 in cash. Mrs. Riley said that as far as she could see, none of the stock had been touched. To date, it has not been determined whether the same two men are responsible for both the robberies, or whether it is the work of separate groups.

Any families that would like to spend a week-end, or even the day in the Santa Cruz mountains, and at the same time do a bit to help the Scouts, are very much in demand right now. Camp Wasibo must be made ready for the summer, to accommodate the children that would like to go down there. The Camp is about seven miles out of Felton, close to Santa Cruz. Winter damage must be repaired, and manpower is badly needed to whip things into shape. Any of you that feel you would like to go down, contact Mrs. Vanderbilt, at JU. 5-1996, and she will give you the information you would like. It is really a garden spot down there, in the heart of the mountains, and your kids would love it too.

Kindergarten

The Bayshore Elementary School term will be out on June 8. School will resume on September 11.

Any of you that have children to enroll in kindergarten might like a bit of information. Your child must be 4 years 6 months as of Sept. 1, 1951. You must present a birth certificate on the day of registration, or by Sept. 30. Any child born after March 1, 1947, will not be eligible.

Registration of Kindergarten and first grade children will be held on Monday, May 28, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. This will be the only day of registration until the opening day of school on Sept. 11.

If your child is attending kindergarten, you do not have to register the child again. Send a note as to whether you expect your child to be attending the first grade at the Bayshore School.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Maude Brunette, an English war bride of six summers (or winters—according to her mood of the moment), has given me a great deal of "international" and "national" food thought. She has done this by seeing us Americans through a pair of bright blue and thoroughly British eyes.

What she sees—and says—is not always flattering nor objective, but it is always honest according to her lights and certainly worth thinking over. Take the matter of "Boots"...

"Do they have anything like 'Boots' here in America?" she enquired early in our acquaintance. "Boots?" I echoed, gulping tea and wishing my n/w neighbor liked a decent brew—like coffee. "What do you mean, 'Boots'?"

"Boots Cash Chemists!" she answered. "Back home, in England, every town has a 'Boots' and every 'Boots' has a circulating library that works all over the British Isles... You take out a book in Devon, finish it on the

Swimming

The Bayshore Campfire Girls are going swimming this Friday evening. Mrs. Throne, their Campfire Guardian, is taking them all up to Jefferson, for a duck in the pool.

The Mr. and Mrs. Club is planning a big outing for the weekend. Five cabins have been reserved at Marsh Springs, across the bay. Some of the men will leave Friday night, and rise bright and early Saturday morning to spend a day with a rod and reel, trying their luck with bass around Antioch. Rumor has it that the fishing is tops right now in those parts. The women will come up later, and be treated to a day of listening to the stories of the ones that got away. Count the empty beer bottles girls, and subtract them from all the stories you hear.

The Cub Scouts will hold another paper drive this coming week. Many people have started to save their papers for the youngsters, and they are to be commended. It isn't much trouble to put them in a separate pile, and the little money that is paid for the paper is badly needed by the Cubs, for supplies and for outings for them.

"America has no 'Boots,'" I sighed enviously. "By the way—isn't a Chemist shop like our Drug stores?"

"Hardly LIKE," she replied distantly and down the nose. "Chemists shops at home sell DRUGS!" Whereupon I poured more tea all around and changed the subject.

There is a part of me that is "Forever England," but right then I found myself very fond of our corner drug stores, comic books and all...

Race prejudice came up next, and strangely enough it was brought about by the attempted purchase by Mrs. Brunette, of some dark brown material for making a dress.

"Something in 'nigger brown' I think," she had asked the saleslady—and was almost slapped for saying it," she added over the, by now, inevitable cup of tea in my breakfast room. "Jane, I just don't understand you Americans!" she continued with deep feeling. "Back home, in England, we don't care what color a man's skin is—and we mean it! But here, you talk about not caring, but you certainly MUST care if something like 'nigger brown' gets everyone so much."

"Call it chocolate," I sighed sadly, "and give us time!" And, having known her for over a year by

Jefferson Elementary Retains Junior Olympics Crown, Wins In Three Classes

by Erle Johnson
Sunday morning the Third Annual Junior Olympics was held at the Jefferson Union High School Track. Jefferson was again the winner and retained the trophy which was first won by them last year. The scores were: Jefferson 80, Colma 51, OLPH 47, and Crocker (girls "B" class only) 2 points.

Jefferson won the Girls and Boys B divisions and the Girls' "A" division. OLPH won the Boys' "A" division with 21 points, followed by Jefferson's 16 points, and Colma's 8 points. Jefferson had practically a clean sweep in the softball pitch and made 24 points in this one event. Colma won three out of four of the dashes, losing only the 75 yard dash in the Boys' "A" division. Delmar Hamann ran the 75 yard dash in the excellent time of 8.8 seconds to win easily while Bette Scott won the girls' 50 yard dash by only a yard over Beverly Crudo, in 6.4 seconds.

Bette Scott, Colma, was a double winner, having won the standing broad jump with a leap of 7' 4" and the 50 yard dash. Carol Hansen, Colma, was also a double winner taking the Girls' "B" class standing broad jump with 6' 10 1/2" and the 50 yard dash in 7 flat. Eunice Massoni, Jefferson, Girls' "B" class, won both of the softball events. Eunice tossed the softball 136 feet and made 900 out of a possible 1000 points in the softball pitch. There were no double winners in the boys' classes. James Snell, Hugh Falconer, Tom Larmie and Hal Willis from the Daly City-Colma Lions Club were on hand to give able assistance in running off the various events. These men are to be thanked for the splendid job they did and in the way they handled the events. Each winner received a gold or silver track shoe (miniature medals) and the second and third place winners received red and gold ribbons respectively.

Rod and Gun Notes Commission To Tag Off-Shore Salmon

EUREKA—Some connection between the off-shore salmon of the northern California coast and those which appear each year to spawn in the State's coastal and inland rivers will be sought when the Division of Fish and Game this month embarks on the first of a series of extended salmon tagging cruises out of Eureka.

Marine Biologist Eldon P. Hughes is in charge of the operation. With the aid of a chartered 47-foot commercial salmon trolling boat, the crew will follow the fishing fleet in pursuit of the big off-shore salmon. Fish will be caught, tagged, and returned to the water.

Tags returned from salmon caught off the northern coast have shown that many spawn in the Sacramento River. This season's survey, Hughes explained, will attempt to determine the importance of the Sacramento River system to the northern salmon fishery.

Free Fishing for G.I.'s
SACRAMENTO — Members of the armed forces and auxiliary branches on active duty may now take part in California's favorite outdoor sport without buying an angling license, under terms of a Legislative bill signed into law recently by Governor Earl Warren.

The license waiver for Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine, and Coast Guard personnel is similar to a law in effect during World War II. Members of the California National Guard, Defense and Security Corps, ROTC, merchant marine, and armed forces reserve organizations are excluded from the free angling provision and must purchase a regular license before fishing.

Rescuing Trapped Bass
PITTSBURG — Thousands of striped bass, stranded by winter flood waters which overflowed Webb Tract, near Pittsburg, are being rescued by a Division of Fish and Game netting crew.

The fall and spring runs of strippers were swept over the low-lying island's levees by rampaging San Joaquin River waters and since January have provided a field day for anglers. Alex J. Calhoun, district biologist, reports that the island has turned into a lake of about 5,000 surface acres and 14 feet deep. The fish are captured in an impounding net and replaced in nearby Delta waters.

The unique rescue operation was delayed, Calhoun stated, until flood waters receded sufficiently to make netting worthwhile. Most of the fish are tagged before their release to provide researchers with valuable information concerning migrations, growth, and survival.

ED CEREGHINO NAMED TOP JEFF ATHELETE

Nicolini, Cady, McCool Get Individual Awards

Jefferson High's star pitcher for the past three years, Ed Cereghino, was named the outstanding senior athlete and baseball player at the Jefferson Father-Sons athletic banquet last week.

Cereghino this season set a new PAL record by striking out 81 batters in six games. He batted .350. Les Nicolini won the basketball award, while Vic Baher and John Bollinger became co-holders of the track award.

Baher placed first in the discus and third in the shot in the PAL meet and took a double win in these events in the North Coast Section trials. Bollinger won the 880 in PAL and came second in the NCS.

The swimming award went to Norm Cady, who has won eight trophies, more than any other athlete in Jefferson history. Pat McCool received the football award. An all-PAL selection, McCool played offensive quarterback and defensive tackle for the Indian eleven.

Everett Dean, Stanford University baseball coach, was the guest speaker.

Gelsi's Nip Sarto AC In Thriller, 5-4

Gelsi's Liquors rallied in the bottom of the ninth to break up a 4-4 deadlock and nipped Sarto A.C., 5-4, at Marchbank Park Sunday. Center fielder Dominguez opened the frame with a double, advanced to third on an out, and checked in when the Sarto first baseman stumbled while chasing a pop fly behind first.

Left-hander Vince Voto, who came to the aid of starter Smith and allowed Sartos only two hits, was the winning pitcher. Both teams collect five hits in the closely played game.

Gelsi's and Sartos are offering excellent ball for the Daly City fans every Sunday at Marchbank. Turn out and see these top teams in action.

Jeffs Face Sequoia In P. A. L. Playoffs, Route Cherokees In Opening Game, 7-2

Donley To Seek Series Clincher

Jefferson High will attempt to clinch the semi-finals of the current P.A.L. playoffs today when it faces Sequoia High at Redwood City.

The Jeffs gained a one-game edge in the best two-out-of-three series Tuesday when they defeated the Cherokees, 7-2, here.

Coach Glenn South will send his number two hurler, Charlie Donley, to the hill today. In his last outing Donley set Palo Alto down with four hits as the Jeffs eked out a 2-1 win that clinched a playoff berth.

By using Donley today South will have his ace, Ed Cereghino, ready for either first game of the finals or the deciding game of the semi-finals next week.

Avenge a regular season defeat to the Cherokees, the Jeffs took advantage of the wildness of four Sequoia hurlers to rack up the win. Four timely base hits, two by Cereghino, were all the Jeffs needed.

The Indians tallied twice in the first frame when lead-off man Don Wilson walked, Larry Jenkins singled, and then Cereghino batted them both in with another one-baser.

Ronnie Ronner, who came in for starter Art Amaya, was greeted rudely by the Jeffs in the fourth frame. After walking Wilson, he fed a bas hit to Leon Gianecchini, and issued another free pass to Larry Jenkins to fill the sacks. Mansel Roland was hit by a pitch ball to force in Wilson, and that was all for Donner. Jerry Forman then came on the mound for a brief stint. He gave Cereghino a hit that tallied another run, and then walked Donley and Bryan McMahon to force in another pair.

The fifth run of the inning checked in when newcomer Greg Caruso hit Izi Galente with a pitch ball.

Sequoia ganged up on Cereghino in the sixth when they picked up a pair of hits, and combined them with two walks and three errors of two runs.

Cereghino fanned nine Cherokees and allowed only four hits. In the other semi-finals San Mateo toppled Willow Glen, 5-3, to take a one-game edge in their series.

Donley saved the Jeffs the trouble of battling for a playoff berth last Friday when he handcuffed Palo Alto. Displaying excellent control, he whiffed seven and walked none. The only solid blow off of him was Dale Van Slyke's bases

Jaysee Nine Drops Pair To Santa Rosa

Close Miserable Season Buried In League Cellar

San Mateo Junior College dropped two more ball games Saturday at Santa Rosa to close its season buried in the cellar of the Big Seven Conference race.

Santa Rosa JC ended the Bulldog's season drastically by handing them 10-8 and 6-0 setbacks.

Sparked by Jack Holmquist's three-run homer the Mateans built up an early 8-4 lead, but the Bearcub's Marion Sims clouted a grand slam home run in the bottom of the fourth to knot the count.

Santa Rosa added runs in the seventh and eighth to gain the win.

Five Bulldog errors betrayed hurler Mal Leal who dropped his third decision against one win. Leal allowed five earned runs while giving up 11 safeties.

In the nightcap the bottom fell out on John Olcese in the sixth frame as the Bearcats scored five runs on five hits, a walk and an error. George Read, the loop's top hurler, handed the Bulldogs a four-hit whitewash job, striking out seven and walking only one.

Downtown Theatre Has Meaty Comedy

The story of goldbricking G.I.'s, former newspaper men, stationed in the Public Relations Offices of the U. S. Air Forces in London on V-J Day, succumbing to the horrors of PEACE, is the meaty comedy found in the three-act, hilarious stage hit, "The Square Needle" being presented every night, including Sundays and on Saturday matinees at the "Downtown Legit Theater," Ellis and Mason streets, San Francisco.

The stage production, written by Samuel W. Taylor from his Saturday Evening Post, "The Last Man In London" is playing a limited engagement at the "Downtown Legit Theater."

Nightly and Sunday performances are staged at 8:30 o'clock and the Saturday matinees are pencilled in for 2:30 o'clock, according to Edward G. Maley, director general of the theater. Mail orders are accepted for all performances and tickets are on sale at the amusement houses' box office, or the St. Francis Hotel and at the Sherman Clay stores, both in San Francisco and Oakland.

Vic Baher To Compete In State Prep Meet

Jefferson High's Vic Baher, who won the P.A.L. and N.C.S. discus event, will enter the state high school meet Saturday at Berkeley. Baher won in the N.C.S. with a pitch of 134 feet, 6 inches. In the Berkeley meet he will be using a lighter platter, however. He has been using collegiate discus, but Saturday he will use a scholastic discus which is a few ounces lighter.

ON THE OTHER HAND...

By Bob Quinlan

Quote of the week:
"If it wasn't for Oakland the Seals would be in ninth place."

In other words, if it wasn't for San Francisco the Oaks would be far in front of the rest of the pack in the PCL race.

At this writing the Seals have copped something like nine decisions in 11 tries against their cross bay cousins. These nine games constitute slightly less than half the wins the O'Douls have garnered this season.

Why do the Seals beat the Oaks and no one else? Here's Hank Behrman's reason. When the Oaks sold the dissatisfied hurler, he told ex-boss Brick Laws that the Oaks would never beat the Seals while he was pitching.

So far he's kept that vow. In Wednesday afternoon's game he entered the contest in the eighth inning with the score deadlocked 4-4. He then proceeded to shut the door in the faces of his ex-mates for four frames, and finally emerged victor when the Seals rallied in the bottom of the 11th.

Previous to this self-gratifying stint, Behrman had been treated rudely by every club he faced since becoming a Seal. In fact Lefty O'Doul had been reluctant to use him for the past week.

But vengeance is sweet, and Behrman snapped out of it Wednesday. Maybe he'll return to his season form when he was tops on the pennant winning Oakland mound corps.

This season ends the brilliant high school career of Jefferson High's Ed Cereghino. The big righthander has been a mainstay on the Jeff nine for three years, and led the Indians to the PAL title last year. He may lead them to another title this season.

Cereghino, named the outstanding Jeff athlete of the year, set a new PAL record this season by striking out 81 batters. This eclipses the old mark of 70.

The loss of an outstanding hurler like Cereghino would make most coaches mighty glum, but not Glenn South. He has his eye on a young fellow named Don Delbon who pitched for the crown winging frosh-soph nine.

Cereghino will be sorely missed, but Jeff should be tough to beat for next few years. Delbon, who had a habit of tossing one hitters, was the mainstay for the pa-pooes. Besides hurling excellent ball he batted cleanup and paced the frosh-soph hitters.

The Yankees have Mantle to replace Di Maggio, the Indians have Delbon to replace Cereghino. Both clubs are champs, and will continue to be the class of their league.

68 Measles Cases Here During April

Measles hit their 1951 high in San Mateo County in the month of April with a reported 990 cases, 44 occurring in Daly City and 24 in Colma.

Since the beginning of the year measles have been increasing. In January there were 124 cases; February, 220; and March 554. In April, 1950, there were only 57 cases reported.

The Red Cross still is providing immune globulin for use in prophylaxis or treatment of this disease. Physicians may obtain it from the Daly City branch office at 7375 Mission Street, Plaza 5-0771.

Other diseases reported in Daly City were nine cases of chicken pox, one case of strep infections, and one case of rheumatic fever.

The State Department of Public Health again placed the summer quarantine on mussels May 1. The ban will remain until October 31.

Skeptical persons should realize that there is real danger in ignoring this quarantine. There is no way to tell toxic from non-toxic mussels except by laboratory examination.

Re-routing Long Distance circuits—one of the many interesting, vital jobs for women in the telephone business.

THE GIRLS BEHIND EACH TELEPHONE "HELLO"

Theirs are important jobs—and they do them well

1. Here's one business where the spotlight's really on women. Because of the nature of telephone work, nearly two out of every three telephone people are women—a high percentage. And they must be capable, well-trained women to handle your calls efficiently and serve you well in our offices. We train them, at our expense of course. And they earn good money in this important work.
2. Practically every sort of job—from accounting to teaching—can be found in our business. In addition to good pay, the girls have the security of the company-paid Benefit Plan and enjoy holidays and vacations with pay. All know they have a good chance to advance as their ability grows. Perhaps the best evidence of the importance of women to us is that hundreds have management jobs.
3. It would be hard to imagine work for women today more important than a job in our nation's telephone service. For now, more than ever, our country needs swift, reliable communications to help speed the job of defense. And it's reassuring to know that in these days of high prices on most everything, you still get a bargain when you buy telephone service. Here in the West, on the average, telephone rates are up less than half as much as the cost of living.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

Our schools, their progress, retrogression, their objectives and results, plus the pros and cons of the Elementary School Board split, seemed to be the number one "town topic" last week.

The emphasis on the schools was climaxed by the bond success and the election of new members to fill vacancies on the Jeff High and Jeff Elementary Boards.

It is hoped that the Elementary School Board controversy, which regrettably resulted in Supt. James Snell's resignation last week, can somehow be reconciled, since it appears to an impartial observer that both he and Mrs. Helen Cheatham, while disagreeing on points are nonetheless both persons of integrity caught in the cross currents of conflicting demands.

I understand that Mrs. Cheatham has in good conscience tried to fulfill her obligation to the people she represents, in the main trying to resolve complaints regarding teachers and teaching, and inter-scholastic problems.

On the other hand, Mr. Snell, whose wonderful record stands for all to see, has worked long and faithfully in solving the gigantic equations of the larger and more material structure so that the related problems, which are caused principally by overcrowded conditions, would have been for the most part, automatically and permanently taken care of.

Daly-City-zens are aware that other fast-growing communities are also suffering from "growing pains," but it was brought home to them forcibly by this unexpected and unhappy development which involves the vital welfare of our children.

The school children, all unaware, are in the meantime, gleefully counting the days (a scant few weeks to go) till Vacation. . . Happy Day! This will be the day all Mothers realize that a teacher's job is no cinch!

THE EGG AND I:

Paying off a fifty dollar jackpot, was a certain firm of egg distributors, who listed Mrs. E. Maasberg, 327 Irvington St., as one of the top winners. Other local luck ladies were Mrs. Sidney Silver, 89 Bepler St., who received a ten dollar award, which she "promptly spent on the kiddies." Her neighbor, Mrs. George Vandendobert, at 42 Bepler, has managed to hold on to her five dollar prize, but I'm betting an exuberant down town will change that! Here's hoping for more winners from our town!

At the Firemen's Frolic recently Mr. F. L. Flore, 624 Bellevue, won a new Fridgidaire, with Inez Mesquite, 363 Santa Barbara, lucky recipient of the roaster. Making coffee in style this week is Paul Pizze, 229 Oliver St., with a new coffee maker. Frying up fritters etc. are the H. Ziamen's of 279 Wyandotte, who won a Deep Fryer. . . Estelle Gondson, charming receptionist at Merced Country Club, won an egg-cooker and M. Wodward, 300 Citrus, and Rose Cattano of 157 Hillside Blvd. both have new sets of dishes— which sounds like a tasty set-up to me!

CALICO CLICKERS:

Entertaining at the recent opening of the San Francisco State College's newly built Gym, were the local contingent of folk dancers known as the Calico Clickers. Under the direction of Muriel Pabst, they presented a Lithuanian Interpretive Folk Dance called the Malunas (the mill). Well received, they were able to inspect the new facilities only briefly before they had to leave to fulfill an engagement at the F and AM Occidental Lodge No. 22 at Islam Temple on Van Ness. This Masonic Lodge was giving a Barn Dance, and a good time was had by all, the local group leading in square dancing and later putting on a program. Calling was done by a well known figure in dancing circles, Edith Thompson of San Bruno.

SILVER LINING:

Returning from Panama recently was Jim Garrett, sportsman and newspaper publisher following a cablegram from brothers Ray and Walter, after fire took heavy toll of the Garrett Press, long a landmark on Natoma street, S.F., and "first love" of all three brothers. Reconstruction has been started, however, and Ray feels that in several weeks they can start some of the presses running again—Good Luck!

EARLY BIRDS:

Upper Mission St. residents, and San Jose Ave. residents are getting up early these mornings, with a noisy revelle of drills and picks, with which workmen are removing track. Rumor has it that signals will be installed and a strategic plan worked out to facilitate a smoother flow of traffic, and safer thoroughfare, for pedestrians—

Mrs. Harry Grimes, who returned from a motor trip to Los Angeles, recently, extended Mother's Day by promptly bringing back her mother, Mrs. Mary Hammock, with her for a visit in Daly City.

PROFUSION OF POPPIES:

Friday and Saturday, members of the Local American Legion and VFW groups will distribute poppies commemorating our war dead, a portion of the collection going directly to the veterans who made them, and a sizeable amount to the education of War Orphans and Veteran Rehabilitation. Lets encourage the gracious volunteers who are doing their remembering in a practical way, by giving as much as we can. . .

The recent "Poppy Poster" contest, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliaries 410 and 824 in this area, was the means by which eleven year old Robin Hatfield, daughter of Nate Timken (super-grocer) was awarded two cups, taking first place in the county judging, and first in the Unit (for 6th grade). Robin attends Garden Village School and lives at 752 Maddux ave. in Broadmoor.

Carol Ann Bocci, 68 W. Cavour, was also favored with county recognition and a medal for Unit standing. Taking second place for his fine poster was Leo Giannicini (high school entry) in both county and Unit judging.

In the Americanism Essay Contest, Erm Miller, 368 Peoria St., and Roberta Taylor, 49 Mission Circle, won high honors and were presented with gold cups. Mrs. William Merchant of Broadmoor Post, Mrs. Boydson of Daly City and Wilma Shultz of Brisbane were chairmen.

INVITATIONAL:

The Ladies Auxiliary of Co. No. 2 (Fire Dept.) reversed the usual procedure when they invited their husbands to a dinner dance which was held recently at Lyles popular spot in South San Francisco. Covers were laid for 25 guests and each lady received a beautiful carnation corsage. Marie Rigler substituting for President Marie Caferrata, did emcee honors and a good time was the order of the evening.

QUERY ABOUT THE QUARRY:

If Jules Verne could go around the world in 80 days, that ought to be time enough for work to begin on the long contested quarry road, which will connect Wellington and Hillsdale Blvd. The call for bids also, for lengthening Knowles Ave. to Junipero Serra will be the summer program, I am reliably informed.

Lets not forget the very much needed blood donations for our boys in service. . . It is the most effective means of showing you care.

BANKING SERVICE TAILORED FOR TEXTILES

Back in '37, when Americans were just beginning to prefer California clothes, Bank of America offered the textile industry two highly specialized services—factoring and accounts receivable financing. Maybe you've never heard of them, but to a textile man they're the "life-blood of the industry."

Today California clothes are worn by millions . . . and California's textile industry is a leading producer of wealth and jobs! And by lending $8,000,000 a month, Bank of America continues to play an important part in the progress of this great California industry.

But lending is only part of the bank's job—for businesses need deposit services, too. Commercial checking accounts are vital to business firms, and Bank of America provides them for any business, large or small.

Here is statewide branch banking in operation—a banking service that is possible only because of progressive policies, vast resources, and statewide branch facilities.

Plans Made For 1951-52 School Year By 71 San Mateo County PTA Chairmen

"San Mateo county homes have two and two-tenths children in houses where the property values will support less than one-tenth of one child in public school!"

Such was the startling statement which James Torney, county superintendent of schools, used to document his topic "Every Home Is A Liability" to Seventeenth California Congress of Parents and Teachers on Thursday, May 17, in the San Mateo Congregational church.

Financial graphs and a school district map charted Mr. Torney's facts which, he declared, "Are brutally hard on the people of congested Peninsula areas. We believe equalization monies, and not increased basic state aid, could be the answer to our problem."

Mr. Torney's talk was part of a full day's program of business and conferences for the annual "School of Information" that prepares local PTA chairmen from the 71 county units to plan for 1951-1952. District President Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos introduced the speaker, discussed material for the new District Yearbook, and called for departmental reports.

For the school facilities course now in progress Mrs. Richard A. Andresen of San Mateo, district chairman, invited attendance of all interested adults at lectures and tours on May 23 and 25 and June 6 and 8. Room 215 of the Science building on the Delaware campus of the San Mateo Junior college is the lecture locale, while tour groups assemble at the rear of the same building promptly at 9:30 a.m.

Leaders

Conference leaders met with unit delegates in afternoon sessions. Membership information was outlined by Mrs. Faun Tuska of Burlingame, extension director, and Mrs. R. A. Andresen of San Mateo, chairman. Hospitality and room representatives were instructed by Mrs. H. P. Eder of Burlingame, first vice-president, Mrs. L. M. Hill of San Francisco and Mrs. John Sorenson of Daly City, chairman.

Presidents and chairmen of all San Mateo county high schools joined in the forum of secondary schools led by Curtis Davis, principal of San Jose High School, who represented the California Secondary Schools Administrators' Association. District members were Mrs. Frank Garelick of Millbrae, high school service chairman, Mrs. George Lee Camp of Burlingame, education director, and Mrs. B. D. Ralston of Woodside CCPT director of extension.

Unit officers and chairmen on ways and means and budget and finance received information on local PTA projects from Mrs. C. N. Underwood of San Mateo, treasurer, Mrs. Edward Styskel of Burlingame, financial secretary, and Mrs. Stella L. Jensen of Colma, honorary life membership chairman.

Mrs. J. M. Foley of San Mateo, parliamentarian, announced four more weekly Tuesday procedure classes at the Colma Community center, two projected classes for the fall term, and requested copies of unit by-laws and standing rules for district files. On the recommendation of Mrs. Pingree, health director, it was voted to endorse the San Mateo county Dental Society move for fluoridation of the water supply in fourteen county water districts.

Sales of a special PTA date booklet were made by Mrs. Fred Kullenberg of Millbrae, publications chairman. Pamphlets on the Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo county were distributed by Mrs. Pingree and Mrs. Roy N. Cloud Jr., of Redwood City. Unit counselors were assigned by Mrs. Sirex, followed by introductions to acquaint the local associations with their counselors for the year.

State convention notes on outstanding speakers and entertainment emphasized the theme "Children Still Come First," reported official district delegates Mrs. Sirex and Mrs. Eder. A letter read by Mrs. C. W. Cadogan of San Carlos on scholarship stressed the benefits from honorary life membership funds. The membership voted to refer a letter about the film "Human Reproduction" to the executive board for decision.

Colma PTA Members Tour Local Schools

Those attending the district meeting and the school of information May 17 enjoyed Mr. James R. Torney, county superintendent of schools, speaking on the topic of "Every Home A Liability."

Mrs. John Wiesner, Mrs. William Chessman, Mrs. Edward Dennis, Mrs. Angelo Tuvo, Mrs. Stella L. Jensen attended. After the district meeting in the afternoon, they attended classes of instruction to further aid them in their office and chairmanship.

On May 16 Mrs. Wiesner and Mrs. Bertucci attended a lecture at the San Mateo Jr. College. Dr. Clyde Curry from the County Superintendent's office was speaker. His topic was "School Facilities." He presented a general picture of the county's public education facilities.

May 18 Mrs. John Wiesner and Mrs. George Bertucci, together with other members of the Seventeenth District, went on a tour of schools, beginning with our Northern Area. They met on the Delaware Campus of the San Mateo Junior College, then drove through the camp of San Mateo Jr. High and Burlingame High School to Colma and Daly City, where they then viewed the new Colma School. They were greeted by Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal, and Mr. Hugh Falconer, general supervisor, who showed them the facilities of the new Colma school, among which were the movie screen where during the daylight hours, movies may be viewed without having to darken the room, the different colored chalk boards, and the new type desks which are fitted to the individual student's posture.

The lighting fixtures drew attention by being so different. Miss Tobias proudly displayed her new conference type desk for teachers. The principal's office was very spacious in comparison to the new Sharp Park school which was built totally from state funds and necessitated the use of a janitor's closet for the principal's office, as the state program curtails any such frills as a teachers' lounge and large principal's office.

These tours are very interesting, and of special interest to you as a parent. If you wish further information please contact Mrs. John Wiesner, Plaza 5-0072, or Mrs. George Bertucci, Plaza 5-5040.

This is a lecture-tour series. The next lecture, May 23, followed by a tour of Coast Side schools on Friday, May 25. On June 6 the last lecture at 9:30 a.m. and June 8 the last tour starting at 9:30 a.m. This last tour will be of the schools in the southern area of the county.

Our members are still enjoying the very informative parliamentary procedure course given by Mrs. George Beanson every Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The next general meeting will be a Fathers' night on June 5, at 7:30 p.m., at the Colma Community Center on Dunk St. Our speaker of the evening will be Mr. Fred Collins, County Health Inspector, Northern Area, San Mateo county.

The board meeting was held Wednesday, May 23, at 10:30 a.m. at the Jefferson Elementary Schools. We were happy to have Miss Marie Traynor with us at this meeting. The final plans were presented for the graduation party.

Gehring Protests Action Of Local Police In Arresting Him For Speeding

Dear Editor:
I am not a wealthy smart alec who has time or money to waste, but a hard working citizen who got his ire up at the method with which the law enforces itself.

I still maintain that within myself I am not guilty, but regardless of that, it is highly unethical to throw the citizens who pay their wages into jail like a common bum for such a simple misdemeanor—a speeding ticket—the first one in my 300,000 miles of driving.

Such an undignified procedure is a disgrace to the name of the law and if such tactics continue, there is bound to be a reckoning in time to come. Ask the man in the street his opinion! Either he has had a similar embarrassing situation or knows of such that is entirely uncalled for.

I am a firm believer in upholding the law, for a third of my life is spent on the road, and it behooves us all to be as careful as humanly possible; but let's treat each other as gentlemen and uphold the respect of the law for the citizen as well as the citizen for the law. This would promote a general good feeling toward each other that would be a benefit to the community instead of the constant dissension and undercurrent of indignation which we all know is present with the methods now employed.

I hope, even tho I lost my case in the eyes of the court, that I have done a little something for the benefit of my fellowmen. I know a goodly portion feel the same as I, but they realize it is a tough thing to buck.

Let's try and give the little guy who's striving to make a living in this rugged world a "pull up," instead of a "pushing around." There is enough unhappiness in this world of discord that we have no control over—why not try and keep the home front as peaceable as we can. It's worth a try, I'm sure!

Sincerely

Fred Gehring

ADVERTISING IS AN INVESTMENT TOWARD THE PERPETUAL GROWTH OF PROFITABLE BUSINESS

FAVORABLE IMPRESSIONS

The prime purpose of every kind of advertising is to create in the mind of the reader a favorable impression of the advertiser and if his store, and his merchandise.

In order to make any impression at all, it is necessary first of all to gain the reader's attention. It is this fact which has led to the use of unusual, attractive captions and slogans, as well as good illustrative material and art work.

It has also necessitated repetition—repetition of the same advertisement, or of the name of the advertiser. The number of impressions experienced by the average person in the course of a day, or even within an hour, is so large that unless one of them is of particular importance, it is soon forgotten.

A favorable impression is made by suggesting some idea pleasing to the reader—the enjoyment of good food—the lightening of labor—the purchasing of a superior quality of clothing at a lesser cost—the means of saving, or coming into the possession of money.

The "dress" of the advertisement, that is, the way it is worded and displayed, also serves to create a very definite impression for or against the advertiser. Today, the public has been trained (probably unconsciously to a certain degree) to form an opinion, no less by the form than by the text matter of an advertisement.

Sermonette of the Week

"How Can We Tell Right From Wrong?"

By

Rev. Denzil L. Carlisle

Pastor

OCEAN VIEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH

How can we tell right from wrong in a given situation? Some people act one way and others act another way. The subject is important. Too much sin is entering into the lives of the people. Gambling, drunkenness, divorce, lying, chiseling and many other sins are committed about us daily, and condoned by many. Being a servant of sin brings suffering. "The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

It seems such a simple question. People are certain they know right from wrong. "My conscience tells me when I do right and when I do wrong," the implication is that every one can easily tell right from wrong. It has been pointed out that almost every crime on the statute books has been committed with the criminal saying, "I did it because it was the 'will of God!'" More than 85 per cent of convicted criminals justify their actions to themselves. This is man following his conscience.

Can conscience be depended upon as a safe guide to determine right from wrong? That depends upon how the conscience is trained. A person can dull his conscience by not heeding it. Pinocchio was deserted by the Talking Cricket when he would no longer listen. Conscience is the ethics of the group in which we live. This is crystallized into law. Many people live upon this level of judgment. If it is legal, it is right to do it.

A second objective criterion between right and wrong is to be found in the ten commandments. The principles which lie behind the commandments when applied on a universal and spiritual basis make an excellent guide to determine right and wrong. The early Hebrews failed to apply them universally, and the Pharisees of Jesus' time were too legalistic in their interpretation.

If a person would be perfect, there is yet a better measuring stick for determining right from wrong. This is Jesus Christ himself. Here we have the true revelation of God, and God's will for us. "I am the way, the truth, and the life," said Jesus. Jesus revised the old Hebrew law. He cast their principles in the realm of the spirit. "Ye have heard it said of old time, Thou shalt love thy neighbor and hate thine enemy, but I say unto you, Love your enemies. Whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart." This method of determining right from wrong is not a matter of figuring what we think is good and attributing that characteristic to Jesus Christ, but study is necessary. We must come to know the historical Jesus, his life and his teaching. We must come to know the "mind of Christ" even as the early Christians knew it. Paul writes, "But we have the mind of Christ."

Thus is any given situation, the individual who has thus trained his conscience by obeying the will of God as revealed in Christ Jesus, can ask himself, "What would Jesus do? What would Jesus do in this situation?" And though one will not find an exact precedent of the situation in the life of Jesus, one will know right from wrong. The gospel of Jesus Christ also makes provision for the forgiveness of past sins through the accepting of Him as one's Lord and Savior.

Church of the Week

Meeting Place

Where San Jose, Plymouth, Sickles and Sagamore meet is a religiously important intersection to many adults and young people. Here at 107 Sagamore their spiritual activities have centered since September 10, 1950. The entire second floor of this imposing corner building is occupied by the new and growing Ocean View Christian Sunday School and Church. (In the Lakeside Dance Academy Bldg.) There are four beautiful newly decorated large rooms used by the Sunday School and the long chapel room with the high open beamed ceiling is used exclusively for the worship service at 10 a. m. each Sunday morning.

The organization began as a Sunday School only, sponsored by the entire Christian Church body of Northern California. The first Sunday of April this year worship services were opened with a complete program of music and preaching and the observance of the Lord's Supper. May 6, Rev. Denzil Carlisle began his pastorate and speaks to the congregation each Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Blair and Mrs. Earl Lefebvre known as "the bytwins" are co-directors of the Sunday School.

Mrs. Margaret Smith is director of music and has a choir of young people singing at each service.

The church is non sectarian and seeks to serve the spiritual needs of Park Merced, Stonestown, Westlake, Daly City, Broadmoor and Ocean View communities.

Those without transportation, and children, are picked up and returned to their homes by Mr. Henry Blair, JU 7-1733 and Mr. Earl Lefebvre, JU 7-7892.

Westlake Church To Hold Sunday Memorial Services

The fast growing Westlake Community Baptist Church has made great preparations for their big Memorial Day services next Sunday morning at their 11 o'clock services.

An overflow crowd is expected to fill Abbey Chapel, Hillside and F streets, Mt. Olivet Memorial Park, Colma, as the entire church services are being set aside to pay special tribute to our war dead.

The Church will also take this opportunity to pay special tribute to some father and mother present who have given a son on the field of battle.

The Color Guard of the 159th Infantry, 3rd Bn., California National Guard and Old Glory Post 2044, VFW, Daly City, and U. S. Coast Guard will participate in this yearly memorial service in tribute to those who have died on the field of battle in defense of their country.

Rev. Roy Milam, Pastor, will speak on the timely subject: "That They Might Not Have Died In Vain." The message will principally deal with various subversive activities, such as communism, which would rob our great nation and people of those liberties we now enjoy as a great democratic nation.

Van Der Werff Thanks Supporters

Andrew Van Der Werff, incumbent candidate for the Jefferson Elementary School Board, today expressed deep appreciation for the support of the community in returning him to the office last Friday.

"It makes me proud to think my many friends and fellow residents have enough faith in my ability to give me another term on the school board," Van Der Werff said.

"I can assure the community at large that I will do my utmost to live up to the trust that same community has shown in me.

"I promise during the next three years to do everything in my power to improve the Jefferson Elementary School district so as to make it measure up to the high standards of a good educational system.

"Again, many thanks to all of you."

Purchase Of Local Bridges Planned

MAY 24. (CNS) — Final decision on whether the state will purchase the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton bridges spanning San Francisco Bay will be decided at a meeting of the California Toll Bridge Authority next Monday.

Governor Warren, chairman of the Authority, said today the meeting will be open to the public and will be held in the Department of Public Works building starting at 2 p.m.

The Authority had decided to acquire the bridges at the last meeting but delayed final action pending a report by State Highway Engineer George T. McCoy on the condition of both spans. McCoy told the Authority he would like to give a final inspection before purchase was authorized.

Provided the report by McCoy is favorable, it will be only a matter of form for the Authority to vote acquisition for not a single protest was voiced at the last meeting when acquisition was discussed.

The state has been offered the San Mateo-Hayward bridge for $6,000,000 and the Dumbarton span for $2,250,000. The state acquisition would be financed by revenue bonds and would place

Intensify Search For Oil On Coast

Searching for oil in the coast-side region of San Mateo county intensified this week following the granting of new permits for exploratory wells.

The county Planning Committee at its meeting last Friday granted two permits to the Texas Company to drill in the Pescadero and San Gregorio areas.

The exploratory operation at San Gregorio will be on part of the 1100 acres the firm had leased on the Ross Estate property north of San Gregorio Creek.

At Pescadero a test well is to be sunk on the Florence Filben property east of Pescadero Road, about 1½ miles north of Pescadero.

The commission also has adopted a gas and oil well drilling ordinance which sets up fees and provides for regulation of oil operations if oil is found in commercial quantities.

The search for black gold boomed last year when several major oil companies started acquiring leases in the La Honda area on the Coastside.

Test wells were sunk at La Honda, but no commercial deposits were found.

GEAR JUMPING

If your car has a tendency to "jump" out of gear, the trouble can generally be traced to worn or faulty parts in the transmission, says the California State Automobile Association. If this condition is not corrected, it may lead to costly damage.

Rich Beauty in Wood Veneer

Handsomely-figured hardwood veneer wall panels blend harmoniously with table and chairs, also of hardwood veneer. The rich natural pattern of the wood grain in this paneling adds a luxurious touch.

One of the simplest ways in which interior walls of a home can be modernized is to cover them with hardwood plywood paneling. The panels are easy to apply and the cost is moderate. The homemaker who wants to give a "new look" to his living room or den can obtain appealing warmth and beauty by using durable hardwood plywood panels, faced with rich veneer. If desired, the paneling can be applied to the ceiling as well.

A wide range of hardwood face veneers gives the home decorator unlimited rein in selecting the tone of the completed room. The paneling can be chosen to blend with the furnishings, either in matching or contrasting shades and patterns, depending upon the individual taste.

The manufacturers of high quality furniture, television and radio cabinets use many varieties of hardwood veneers, all of which fit in harmoniously with suitably selected wall panels. The proper paneling is available regardless of whether your furniture is of walnut, oak, cherry, birch, mahogany or some other hardwood veneer. Hardwood plywood possesses other properties which make it a desirable product for this purpose. Because of the nature of its construction—layers of veneer with the grain of the wood at right angles and joined together by a strong adhesive—it will neither expand nor contract. The approximate equalization of strength along both the length and width of the panel makes it resistant to splitting.

An advantage of using hardwood plywood panels is that frequently very little preparation of the wall is necessary. Once installed, the care and maintenance of paneled walls is negligible. This point is emphasized by the U. S. Department of Commerce in a report which says:

"Wherever hardwood plywood is installed, it introduces a new note of economy and practicability. Maintenance costs, whether in residential project or public place, are minimized. Surfaces not subject to abrasion require nothing more than an occasional wiping to remove accumulated dust. Other surfaces need little more than a light waxing to restore their original brilliancy and beauty. The abrasion resistance of many hardwoods is in itself a guaranty against most of the marking to which walls are prey. The construction of the hardwood panels protects them against cracking and splitting."

Termites destroy wood. But wood, when pressure treated with a copper arsenate preservative, destroys the termites first!

"Chemonite" is the name of a new copper-arsenate wood preservative developed at the University of California.

Legion Auxiliaries Hold Poppy Brunch

On Sunday at the Casa Mateo in San Mateo, a "Poppy Brunch" was held by the 26th District American Legion Auxiliary. The meeting was ably presided over by the District Poppy Chairman, Mrs. Harry Standley, of San Carlos. The purpose of the meeting was to help and explain and lay plans for the Annual Poppy Sale which will be held throughout San Mateo County and the entire Nation on Friday and Saturday of this week. Many members were present and interesting suggestions were made and discussed.

On May 24 at 11:15 a.m. there will be a radio broadcast over station KSMO on the story of the poppy. Mrs. Standley stated yesterday that it had been reported by our National office that thirty million poppies had been made by the Veterans throughout the United States so there will be many members out early on Friday and Saturday mornings for the sale. The table decorations for the brunch were very beautifully made by one of our members, Mrs. Peggy Marchant, of Broadmoor. It was in form of a cross with a poppy theme.

Untreated wooden clothes poles may rot quickly, even when set in cement. The cement contracts, water seeps in and decay starts. Poles pressure treated with copper-arsenate salt resist attack.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

COLMA SCHOOL
The pupils in Mr. Mitchell's room have been very interested in recordings of classical music. They get records from the school record library and play them on the school phonograph. They particularly like "The Young Prince and Princess" from the Scheherazade Suite by Rimsky-Korsakov.
Mr. Mitchell's pupils are still making murals. Class meetings have been started again.
For science the children are making use of their own environment. They are in frogs and pollywogs from the creek across the road. Some of the pollywogs now have legs, and soon will be frogs.

Room 3
The eighth grade of Room 3 has learned something of the history of the calendar. There have been many changes.
When Julius Caesar came to power in 63 B.C. the Roman calendar was a mess. The year was out of line; the winter months came in the autumn.
Civil authorities played politics with the calendar, lengthening or shortening the year to prolong a term of office or to hasten a coming election. Julius Caesar did his best to put things in order. His Egyptian astronomer judged the solar year to be 365 days and six hours long. This made the year a little too long—more than 18 hours every hundred years. The sun was not keeping pace with the calendar. In the 8th century, June 21 was no more the longest day in the year.
In the 13th century, Roger Bacon wrote the Pope about the increasing discrepancy, but it was not until 1582 that Pope Gregory XIII set up the calendar as we have it today. By that time the year was eleven days ahead of time, so the Pope proclaimed that October 4th of that year would be followed immediately by October 15th.

Room 4
Room 4 has been learning how to set up a budget. This is valuable both for present and future needs. In connection with this, the pupils have been learning how to set up a balance sheet so that the can see the relationship between income and outlay.
In Social Studies Room 4 is learning about Europe and its beginnings and is currently studying the middle ages and the rise and fall of Feudalism. The art work is also on this theme.

Room 6
In health, the students of the seventh grade in room 6 are studying about control of smallpox. This plague was contracted easily and causes death. Smallpox was brought under control by the work of scientists and today no one need have smallpox if he makes use of the means to avoid it.

CROCKER SCHOOL
Crocker Student Body proudly reports that it won three of the prizes in the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade grouping of the American Legion Auxiliary Poster Award. The prizes went to three 6th grade students: Leonard Thistle, 2nd prize, Floretta Johnson, 3rd prize, and Mervin Nienstel, honorable mention. At an assembly presided over by Student President Ronald Davis, the awards were presented by Mrs. Merchant, chairman of the Broadmoor American Legion Auxiliary. Accompanying Mrs. Merchant was Mrs. Bordson, chairman of the Daly City Unit No. 410, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Pahlka. All students gathered in front of the school to share with pride the presentation of awards.

Room 4
Janet Wells brought a salamander to school. She found it in a pond. Robert Griffin brought a baby lizard to school.

San Francisco. We are sorry to have him leave.

Room 3
In Room 3 last week the children had a science exhibit. There were toads, salamanders, lizards, snakes, and water dogs. Those reptiles were all in glass jars. In addition there was a white mouse in a box. Some of the children who brought animals and reptiles were Phillip Fortier, Geraldine Faulhaber, Carolyn Merritt, Don Padulovich and Roland Morton.

Room 5
Janet Wells brought a salamander to school. She found it in a pond. Robert Griffin brought a baby lizard to school.

Room 2
Last Friday the students of the Fifth Grade, Room 2, made pretty cards to give to their mothers on Mothers Day.

Room 1
The pupils of room 1 were pleased to have two members of their group receive awards at the last Crocker Assembly. The awards were made by the American Legion Auxiliary to them for their Poppy Posters. The awards were second award, Leonard Thistle; third award, Floretta Johnson.

Room 6
The class in Room 6 is also studying air transportation. Special reports on the great men in

ADVERTISING IS AN INVESTMENT TOWARD THE PERPETUAL GROWTH OF PROFITABLE BUSINESS

PARTNERSHIPS and EFFECTS

In a partnership the individual status of each of the contracting parties is bound to have a tremendous effect on the other. Each one is concerned about the furtherance of the other's prosperity, and will himself profit thereby. Whatever he does in the interest of his partner will prove of benefit to him as well.

Whether individuals or organizations stand in this relation to one another, they are partners, even though there may have been no conscious recognition of the fact.

Viewed from this standpoint, the newspaper and its advertisers are partners. The more prosperous the advertiser, the greater amount of advertising he can give the newspaper. The greater the amount of advertising in the newspaper, the greater will be its news and feature sections.

The higher the advertiser stands in the estimation of the public, the more effective does his advertising become as a means of raising the standard of his advertising medium. It is assuredly to the best interests of the newspaper to do all in its power to bring success to its advertisers.

For the advertiser, the most important asset of a newspaper is a well-balanced healthy circulation and the confidence of the reading public. The most desirable partner for any advertiser is the newspaper in any given locality which possesses these assets in the most marked degree.

We believe we speak advisedly when we say we are in a position to serve your advertising needs on a maximum basis for the all important points of reader interest, circulation, general features and community prestige.

Our advertising staff is in a position to assist you with new ideas in high-level merchandising facts and figures. Also, to help you with your copy, layouts and selection of art and illustration. Naturally, there is no charge for this valuable service.

Aux. To Promote U. S. Bond Sales

Back at work for Uncle Sam, members of the Old Glory Post No. 2044 Auxiliary, VFW, have agreed to conduct a telephone survey to local business firms in an effort to promote the installation of the Treasury's automatic plan for buying U. S. Defense Bonds.

The project for the local women's group is under the direction of Mrs. Clara Poket, who has been named Auxiliary Bond Chairman. Pointing out the need for increased personal savings for Bonds, due to the nation's preparedness program, Mrs. Poket stressed that the installation of the Payroll Savings Plan is one of the most practical ways in which employers can help in the defense effort.

"By making it possible for those who work for them to save a small part of each pay check toward U. S. Defense Bonds," she stated, "each business firm is helping to lessen the pressures that are causing high prices. Defense is everybody's job. Backing up our military and production fronts by buying Defense Bonds is one way in which everybody can help."

Mrs. Poket stated that she and her committee will be merely asking for information and the approval for sending Defense Bond literature when they make their telephone survey to business heads.

"Our group is oftentimes asked to make solicitations for contributions for worthy causes," she continued, "but here's one job we're undertaking where the entire object is to help more people build their own personal financial security... and help their country at the same time."

Concurring in the importance of the project, and asking for the understanding and cooperation of the business firm heads, is Mrs. Shirley Walker, President of Old Glory Post.

California Eagles Convention Stated

Plans for extensive continuance of aid to California Eagle Lodge children left fatherless by World War II will be one of the major topics of discussion at the California State Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, convention scheduled in Santa Barbara on June 22nd, 23rd and 24th, according to Eddie E. Johnston of Glendale, state president.

"Income from the Eagle National Memorial Fund already is assisting 1,292 children of Eagle World War II heroes," Johnston declared, "and our Eagle lodges in California are anxious to continue this humanitarian work."

Income from the Eagle Memorial Foundation Fund goes to pay all medical and educational expenses of Eagle children who lost their fathers on the battlefronts during the last war.

In announcing plans for the state F.O.E. convention, scheduled next month in Santa Barbara, Johnston pointed out that 194 Eagle lodges, from all parts of California, will be represented. The delegates will represent a membership of over 100,000 California Eagle lodge members. In addition to Eagle conclave, the Women's Eagle lodges, totaling 30,000 members and 102 lodges, will send their delegates to Santa Barbara on the same dates to hold their annual convention.

The Memorial Foundation, which will receive major consideration by the California Eagle lodges next month, is part of the national Eagle program. Eagle lodges from all parts of the nation already have contributed over three million dollars to this living memorial fund, "Johnston declared."

How to Make RIBBON NECKTIES

By ANNE GARY-ANS

Novel Twist in Teen-age Trends

Cutest trick of the year is an accessory called RIBBON NECKTIES. They say NECKTIES started in France, but today they're making the rounds of college campuses from Vassar to Stanford.

It's so easy to make your own... takes only three yards of ribbon, three colors, and three stitches. The ways of wearing them are as varied as a girl's imagination. You can pull the loose ends through a good-looking belt buckle... pin the tie with a brooch or costume jewelry pin... wear a man-style stickpin... merely loop the tie in a neck bow... or give it a double twist and catch it through a pearl necklace in front.

If you make your tie with Martin Nylon Ribbon, the designers tell us, washing will never mar its colorful sparkle. It wears well and stays beautiful, for nylon is tough. It's wrinkle-resistant... the edges won't fray... it dries in minutes after washing... doesn't need to be ironed... couldn't be more spot-resistant. NECKTIES are a blessing to budgets, too, for they cost so little and add so much.

STEP 1. Buy three 1-yard lengths of 1-inch (or a little wider) ribbon.

STEP 2. Join together in the center with three stitches to hold.

STEP 3. Notch ends with shears. Your tie is now ready to wear.

Men's Fashions From the WOMAN'S VIEWPOINT

By LYNNE LAWTON

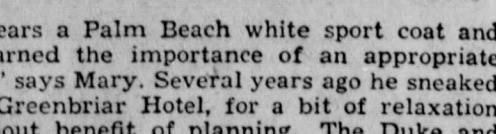

Women's Fashion Coordinator of the Fashion Bureau

TODAY'S WOMEN can give invaluable hints on grooming to the men in their lives. The country's best dressed women believe that a woman's lack of attention to her man's wardrobe is downright negligence. In the field of entertainment, Mary Healy and Peter Lind Hayes, one of NBC-TV's most charming husband and wife comedy teams—team their talents as well on Peter's wardrobe—and as a result his studied casualness has aided him in career, appearance and comfort.

MARY LOVES WHITE, particularly white dresses or suits to set-off her colorful scarfs. She feels that white is just as important in Peter's wardrobe as her own because white coats or slacks look so well with today's colorful sport shirts and other accessories. Here he wears a Palm Beach white sport coat and dark slacks. "Peter learned the importance of an appropriate wardrobe the hard way," says Mary. Several years ago he sneaked down to the exclusive Greenbriar Hotel, for a bit of relaxation and a lot of golf—without benefit of planning. The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were enjoying a stay there at the same time and the day Peter arrived was the night of the formal ball in their honor. Being unprepared, Peter hurried around looking for evening clothes and the golf game unhappily had to be shelved. At the fatal hour, the orchestra leader came to the rescue with the loan of the right clothes and all went well—but his relaxation had to wait until he got home.

Peter may not admit it, but since Mary, like many of us, has become her husband's fashion consultant he doesn't have quite so many style problems.

Judge Thomas Bocci Says He Favors Circuit Court For Daly City Area

To the people of Daly City: Recently, some question has arisen as to whether the proposed Municipal Court would serve the people of the City of Daly City.

This problem presents itself in consequence of the recent constitutional amendment re-organizing the Courts.

Under the authority of that amendment, the County Board of Supervisors has elected to divide the County into 3 districts with one Court to serve the present First Township in the place of the 6 Courts that now exist in this area.

The Board of Supervisors has also recommended that this new Municipal Court be located in South San Francisco since it is a central location for all communities in the First Township.

Recommendation
 As Justice of the Peace I had recommended this plan to the Board of Supervisors, since the alternative proposal would have removed all courts from the north end, and would have established them in the City of San Mateo. However, I had also recommended that a system be devised which would permit this court to sit at least part time in Daly City in the same manner that my Justice Court is permitted to do. With this in mind, I have urged and am now urging the County Supervisors to make provision in their recommendations for at least partial judicial representation for our City.

It is my belief, similarly with that of the City Councilmen, that any city of the size of our own not only should, but must, have some form of judicial representation, whether it be through a part time Court, or to the extent that the judge of the new district includes Daly City in his circuit of his judicial work at least once a week.

No Voice

I have had no voice in the establishment of the new Court, and I doubt very much that any opinion I may express in this matter will at any time draw the attention or study of those in whom the authority is vested by the constitutional amendment to set up these Courts. However, as in the past, I will lend my voice to any movement seeking to provide our city with some form of a Judicial Office.

And, if it should arise that I be elected to this new judicial post, regardless that our County Board of Supervisors may not make allowances for it, or set up a budget to provide for the operation of a part time court here, I will, nonetheless, make Daly City a part of that Judicial circuit at least once a week.

I shall make every effort to cooperate with your City Council and Police Department by presiding in Daly City at least once per week to dispose of such matters as have always been in the past disposed of through our City Court.

Judicial Needs

In my campaign for the election to my present office of Justice of the Peace, I emphasized the judicial needs of the north end of the County. I promised my constituents in Daly City that Daly City would always have judicial representation and I intend, God willing, that such shall be the case. I feel strongly that any program which would deprive a city of 20,000 people such as this of judi-

Housekeeping Made Easier By New Materials, Designs

Modern materials and architectural designs going into remodeling projects and new home construction are taking much of the work out of housekeeping.

Streamlined kitchens, equipped with easy-to-clean cabinets and counters, provide adequate storage and working space while reducing steps to a minimum. Materials used for interior finish and decoration are more attractive, and require less attention to stay neat and clean.

A strong exponent of the woman's viewpoint in home planning is Sonia Jean Albert, a young New York architect. While a student at Yale, Miss Albert was runner-up in a national prize home competition. A graduate of the school of Architecture at Yale, she incorporates many "wife-saver" ideas in her designs. Miss Albert specifies plywood dry-wall construction in house plans because of its stability and economy of application. Sturdy plywood panels, faced with hand-somely-grained hardwood veneer in either light or dark woods to blend with furnishings of the home, also are easy to take care of. The architect explains her choice of wood for interiors in these words:

"Paneled walls of richly-grained hardwood plywood give an appealing warmth. And decoratively speaking, they go well with the beautiful new furniture in hardwood veneer, whether it be modern or traditional."

Both Economical, Practical
 Miss Albert points out that use of hardwood plywood and wood veneer is economical and practical both in remodeling and new construction. Hardwoods do not mar easily, and the construction of the panels protects them against cracking and splitting.

The young architect prepared the plans for the recent remodeling of her parents' home at Danbury, Conn., actually supervising the work on the dwelling, an old farm house, which was transformed into a modern home. A brick fireplace was the starting point for a solid brick wall across one side of the living room. Bookcases, cabinets and wall paneling of hardwood plywood were installed, together with a built-in television cabinet of hardwood veneer.

Cabinets and counters of hardwood plywood provide ample storage and working space in the modern kitchen, while doors of similar material enclose wardrobes in each of the bedrooms. Flush-type doors, which have a smooth, attractively-figured hardwood veneer surface and eliminate dust-catching moldings, are used throughout the home.

BLOOD MONEY

by Ridgely Cummings

Hollywood is a town where those who have arrived at some degree of worldly success run around to social functions dressed extremely casually, while those whose success lies still in the future knock themselves out for the sake of "front," appearance.

Successful people are really quite pleasant when one gets to know them. I enjoy rubbing shoulders with success, though none of it has ever rubbed off on me.

In fact, I have an uncanny genius for attracting the struggler, the down-and-out, the people with sad stories to tell. They are drawn to me like bears to honey.

This magnetism for the mal-adjusted was operating full force at a luncheon last week.

It was quite a nice luncheon, attended by members of a glamorous profession, though in the interest of delicacy I must withhold names.

Conversation Piece

We were seated at small tables, six to a table, which is just the right size for conversation without raising one's voice or leaning over a neighbor.

Two of those present at my table were known to me by reputation, their names having become almost household words. The third was an acquaintance. The fourth was a relative of an official who was present. That left No. 5, a thinning-haired youth, and myself.

The fifth chap looked pale but spoke with energy and enthusiasm, dominating our table's conversation. In turn he concentrated on each of the others, asking questions and recounting personal experiences during which he made casual references to his sail boat, his new car which unfortunately was laid up in a garage, his predicament about a formal party to which he had been invited and to which he was undecided whether to wear white tie and tails or black tie and tuxedo.

The others were courteous to No. 5 but at the same time seemed reserved and unimpressed.

I, on the contrary, was considerably stirred by his success. Ah, I thought, a gentleman adventurer. I asked questions which drew him out. He inquired as to my first name and used it frequently thereafter.

Noon Stroll

After No. 5 had tried in vain to get a lift from the others at our table, he asked which way I was driving. I said I was walking.

We left together and strolled down the boulevard. It was a sunny day and I felt well-fed and happy. But not for long.

As we strolled, each window display seemed to remind my companion of something he wanted to buy. Alas, he had neglected to bring his check book with him. Could I let him have twenty?

Unfortunately I couldn't. I looked at him with new eyes. He talked on and on and inevitably the subject of finances cropped up in his remarks.

With sharpened perception now, I began to detect grammatical flaws in his speech and grew doubtful about the university background he mentioned so glibly.

Finance Cynic

I chided myself for this cynical attitude, telling myself that after all he was a fellow human being and good company.

But the sun seemed less bright and the people we passed less carefree.

No. 5's conversation grew more and more depressing. There were no more references to yachts and dinner engagements. Gradually the grim hard facts of his past, present and probable future came forth.

The fellow had actually sold his blood, four dollars for a pint or a quart, I don't know which, in order to attend that two dollar luncheon. And, crowning irony, of all the prosperous people there he had had to pick on me.

Plenty Of Shade Promised For Fair

More than 150 shade trees have just been planted in the immediate vicinity of the Floral Fiesta building at the San Mateo County fairgrounds and today workmen are busy setting out 850 shrubs in conformity with a landscaping plan, according to A. J. Gaggero, president of the Fair Association.

Monterey pine, Monterey cypress, eucalyptus, silk oak and acacia trees on attaining full growth will afford substantial wind protection as well as add to the landscape plan.

The 850 shrubs are valued at $2500. They were donated to the fairgrounds by peninsula nurseries, Christensen's of Belmont, West Coast Nursery of Palo Alto, Pacific Nursery of Colma and Bert Pluth of Pescadero and San Francisco.

The San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta already has buildings, fixtures and land valued at $750,000. Surpluses from gate receipts, trade spaces and concessions are supplemented by funds from the State for investment in grounds or building improvements.

Landscaping such as that which is now under way will be extensively and progressively developed for the 25 acre fairgrounds site on 25th Avenue, between El Camino and Bayshore highway, according to present plans of the Fair Association Board of Directors.

The Fiesta, for all San Mateo County to prevent choice blooms from its $6,150,500 floral crop, is widely known as the outstanding Fall flower show in the west.

Jack Gibson, fiesta landscape architect for the last several years is today designing some spectacular effects never before attempted for the 1951 show which is scheduled for September 21 through 29.

California's half-million acres of vineyards produce about 90 per cent of the nation's grapes.

Bank Of America Estate Plan Given

A report of the first full year's operation of the Bankamerica Family Estate plan has just been made to the staff of Bank of America by L. M. Giannini, president.

It shows that $7,747,478.72, which is equal to 15 per cent of the annual payroll, was applied during 1950 partly to immediate employee benefits and partly to a program designed to build an estate for every employee and his or her dependents.

Of the full amount, which represents eight per cent of the bank's 1950 net profits before taxes, $3,787,783.22 was applied to immediate benefits to every full time Bank of America employee in the continental United States who has served more than three months in that years. Among such benefits were group life insurance, dependent life insurance, hospital and surgical insurance, retirement annuity insurance and sickness benefits.

The remainder of the total, less a minor item of cost, was used to purchase 153,305 shares of the common capital stock of the bank. These shares were distributed to the accounts of some 6,300 employees of five or more years of service with the institution, to remain in trust for the employee's retirement and meanwhile earning dividends which are used to purchase still more shares for the employee's account, all to yield additional income to the employee when retire.

Consequently, if you see no signal ahead when approaching a light-controlled intersection, do not assume that the lights have been turned off. Motorcycle CD Volunteers Called

An urgent call for motorcycle owners and drivers to volunteer for Civil Defense emergency communications work in the event of enemy attack or other disaster was issued today by Admiral A. G. Cook, Director of the San Francisco Disaster Council and Corps.

Motorcyclists who volunteer their services would be used as dispatch riders, convoy leaders, road patrol personnel and damage spotters.

Particularly fitted for this work would be cycle sportsmen.

Business houses employing motorcycle delivery men are asked to volunteer their equipment so it can be used by their drivers who offer their services.

Fire Fighters Needed Soon

MAY 24. (CNS) — The State Division of Forestry, anticipating a critical fire season, has sent out a call for experienced and inexperienced men to patrol California's valuable timber lands. Summer workers will have a chance to remain with the service by taking civil service examinations.

Immediate employment is offered men over 16 and the pay is $200 per month. Fire lookouts, fire crew cooks, forest fire truck drivers, firefighter foremen, and forestry equipment operators are especially needed.

To eliminate frequent replacement, build garden structures with Chemomite-treated lumber, advises Dr. Gordon, of the University of California.

Get To The Top In A Hurry

MAY 31. (CNS) — Want to rise in the world?

The State of California needs elevator operators and the personnel board has announced an examination for operators to be held in June, with the deadline for filing applications to take the tests June 2.

California has many new office buildings, either completed or nearing completion, and all have elevators. The annex to the State Capitol alone has six of the latest type, and more are being installed in other buildings now under construction.

The monthly salary range is $190 to $231 per month and application blanks may be obtained from the personnel board, 1015 L Street, Sacramento, or any department of employment office.

Police Inspector Addresses PTA

On Tuesday, May 15, Inspector Tracy of the S. F. Police Department spoke to the ladies of Sheridan PTA when they held the last meeting of the school term.

He explained the duties of the boys and girls of the Safety Patrol Squads and pointed out that we as parents must set a good example by teaching our children safety rules and to observe them ourselves.

Mrs. R. W. Nierl, Counselor for Mt. Davidson Section and Mrs. Harry H. Hastie, junior past president of Sheridan PTA gave a joint report on the recent CCPT Convention held in San Diego.

Also on the program, was the reading of last year's History of the unit, by Mrs. Louis Palmieri, past historian.

Be sure you are in the correct lane when you decide to make a turn, advises the California State Automobile Association. If you plan to turn left, pull into the center lane well before you plan to execute your turn. If you are going to turn right, pull into the lane nearest the curb.

luncheon will be served to the faculty of Sheridan School by the Executive Board of Sheridan PTA.

Attractive Gifts Made With Match Boxes And Gay Papers

By ANNE GARY
ANS Features

Don't throw away anniversary, birthday or Easter cards, and be sure to save the fancy paper your presents were wrapped in. Look up old Christmas cards and gift wrappings... chances are they're still around the house. Hang onto those Valentines—transform them into attractive stamp, recipe, thumb-tack, pill or hobby boxes for the whole family. Since materials you need are things you're sure to have around the house anyway, all it costs to make these unique gifts is a little time and imagination.

Start with an empty kitchen match box, a pair of scissors, some glue or rubber cement. (Rubber cement is easier to work with, and less likely to show through thinner papers.) Cut out your favorite scene from a greeting card and paste on top of the box. Use other card scenes or decorative wrapping paper cut to size for ends and sides of the box. Gold and silver foil, or any of the colored metallic papers give a rich-looking effect. Striped wrappings make particularly attractive gift boxes, but when using them be sure to match the stripe design at each corner for a neater effect.

Decorative stamp, recipe, thumb-tack, pill and hobby boxes made from things around the house.

Hint for keeping the youngsters busy and happy in the house on a rainy day... have them save Dad's empty safety match boxes to cover. They'll have fun decorating them.

STATION WAGON IS EVERYMAN'S CAR

By FRANK M. WRIGHT
Editor, Automotive Features

NEW YORK (Special) — The station wagon is spreading out from its native habitat—the suburbs—into the thousands of towns and villages that form the backbone of America.

What before the war was a class-conscious vehicle of the millionaire set is fast becoming a useful multi-purpose car for the average family.

Automotive experts call this increasing popularity of the station wagon the most significant post-war trend in the industry and attribute it to the economical all-steel body.

The bulk of last year's record production of 151,000 station wagons was the all-steel body, they point out, and although 14 manufacturers build station wagons, a few of the lower-price manufacturers accounted for 60 per cent of the sales.

The largest single producer of station wagons is Willys-Overland Motors of Toledo, Ohio, which introduced the all-steel body in 1946. So successful was the innovation that during the last four years, while the industry's station wagon production was tripling, Willys has dominated the field.

In an interview here today Ward M. Canaday, president of the company, said that the popularity of the all-steel body is easy to account for. It drastically cuts the construction cost of the station wagon and brings it within the buying power of every automobile owner's pocketbook.

"In addition," Mr. Canaday said, "all-steel vehicles are much more economical to maintain. They are safer, because of the all-steel body, vision is better, and they tend not to go out of fashion as quickly as other model cars."

He declared that women are especially enthusiastic about station wagons because they are easy to drive and simple to park. With a seating capacity of six people they are also ideal for taking children to school and on picnics or trips to the beach.

Men like them because they are handy. Rear seats are easily removable and it is the matter of a moment to convert from a personal car to a light delivery truck made to order for dozens of family needs such as transporting hunting, fishing or boating equipment, Christmas trees, firewood and all manner of baggage, including the baby's play pen.

Local Children Given Free Passes To June 9 Rodeo

Children of Daly City are invited to attend the Livermore Rodeo absolutely free on Saturday, June 9th, the first day of the annual 2-day performance of "the world's fastest rodeo."

Only requirement for the free admission, states ticket director Jack Jensen, is that the youngsters be accompanied by at least one adult.

The kids who attend will see a real western movie star in the person of Slim Pickens, one of America's top rodeo clowns. He has made several Hollywood westerns recently and bids well to become one of the top kids' favorites before long.

Other attractions in the fast-moving, wild and woolly show will be the numerous rough-and-ready cowboy champions from all corners of the United States and Canada. They will match their riding skill and nerves against the toughest bucking horses and snorting brahma bulls available.

While this is going on in the arena, there will be cowboy and cowgirls races and a horse show on the track around the arena. And there will be scores of trick riders and ropers to keep the entertainment going every minute of the show.

Tickets for both Saturday and Sunday performances are now available from Livermore Rodeo Headquarters, P. O. Box 180, Livermore, Calif.

Cable cars are extinct except in San Francisco.
